SLAVERY OF WORDS

BY GRAYLIN THORNTON INTERNATIONAL MR. DRUMMER 1993

Recently, I had the opportunity to discuss with a friend the origin of the term "buck naked." As taught to me in my early childhood by the Black Panthers of Oakland, CA, "buck naked" referred to the stripped down African males on display for sale on the auction block. Therefore, a term once used to describe the nonconsensual degradation of my African fathers is now used to eroticize the beauty of the human body.

History, for centuries has encouraged the relationship between Master and slave; Dominant and submissive; Daddy and boy. The Greeks, Egyptians, Romans, Spaniards, Scandinavians, Africans, and Americans once preyed upon the manpower of the conquered. During those time periods, human beings became mans' greatest possessions. Unfortunately, during those times, these humans did not willfully submit to their fate, but were stripped from the only land they knew. The ideal world in which we live frowns on our past. We paint a picture of history as if it were some unmentionable mistake which we unknowingly repeat from time to time. In our studies we refer to these periods as "dark." We gloss over them as if they never really happened. And if it did, was it all that bad?

Although we now realize the horror of a time in which man was sold and transported as human cargo, there remains with us the eroticism of that period. The idea of shopping for a man to fulfill your every desire for an entire lifetime is quite tempting, indeed. The notion of examining his muscular physique from head to toe and transporting him to his new home remains appealing, even to this day.

The eroticism continues. Our fascination with slavery remains with us, probing and tempting our deepest fantasies. What was once an issue of color or heritage has transcended the darkness of the past to become the lifestyle of the present. What greater gift can man give than himself? To give freely, his body and all it encases may be his greatest fantasy. The only gift which may be comparable is the one he receives in return, acceptance and approval from his Master.

If this be the case, then whose fantasy is it? If the greater gift is given by the slave then who is slave to whom? Does the slave permit the fantasy, allowing his Master to live the croticism of a lifestyle of one of history's "darker" periods?

Clearly, there is little correlation between the brutality of man's past and the eroticism of what has become a standard in the leather lifestyle relationship. I, being a young man of African/Native American/European descent am proud, but not so politically correct to be considered "black". That pride and identity is of my own choosing and in no way reflects the terminology chosen by other people of color or similar descent.

There is an obvious bond between history's dark past, people of color, and usage of the terms

"slave," "boy," and "submissive." To some, these are just words used to describe the relationship as they know it. To others they are a reminder of a time when our fathers were stripped of their manhood and homeland.

The sensitivity of word usage in the human language is not only the responsibility of the speaker but also lies with the listener. The difference between language of the past and today is quite vast. Yesterday's slave was bought and sold. Today's slave gives himself, freely.

It is the duty of both partners in any relationship to define that relationship as it meets their needs. It is also their duty to demonstrate a relationship of mutual respect, dispelling connotations of past prejudices. If one chooses to become a "slave," "boy," or "submissive," he does so with pride knowing he has given to his "Master," "Daddy," or "Dominant" the greatest gift possible. No longer is slavery an issue of pigmentation but a matter of self-fulfillment. The brutality of the chains of the past are broken and have been replaced by the deepest forms of eroticism and respect. It is that respect which differentiates between the past and the present. Although slave owners in the past should have and may have had respect for their property, communication of that was definitely unheard of. In today's leather/SM relationships, respect exists not only between slave and Master, but also between Master and slave.

It's the name "slave" or the image of slavery which seems to be the problem with today's politically correct or politically correct wannabe's. So far, in the 1990's we have spent countless hours and energy trying to find phrases and words which would not offend anyone. In the true scheme of things this is a task which is nothing more than tiresome, frustrating, and damn near impossible.

The insult is not in the word itself, but in how we use it as well as how we choose to hear it. In looking to take the slavery out of "slave" we resist communicating the very idea which gives us the croticism we long for. A leatherman using the word "slave" conveys a definite image of lust in its darkest form. He is using a term from our past to communicate with his peers the relationship which is most cherished in our community today. It is that relationship which is the real issue, not the terminology used to define it. The slavery of the past should not be confused with the bonding between members of the leather/SM community in the present. Those are two different times and two different relationships. We cannot remain "slaves" to words. If we take away the language then we fail to communicate the ideas as we mean them. Without communication we cannot relate with one another for it involves speaking as well as listening. It is our relationships which bond us together, not the word "slave."

Dear Editor,

I want to compliment you on your new format, and particularly the "Working It Out" story by David May in the latest issue of International Drummer, Jim Wigler's photography certainly helped "stretch my Levis," until I noticed the footwear.

What is it about white tennis shees with black leather? I gladly admit to being a member of the leather "eld guard." | respect the integrity and courage of leatherfolk whe preceded me. I've seen hot men wearing high heels with their leathers for Halloween and get a laugh out of it. However - in a scene or at your local leatherbar, nonblack shoes make a statement. I perceive that statement to be "leather's just fashion to me." "don't take me seriously," er "girlfriend, I wear what I like - these are se comfy." Te me, leather is a manifestation of something deep inside, and a symbol of tribal belonging. I wouldn't put en ico skatos to show up for a basketball game with friends. I feel that white tennies are the ultimate in inappropriateness and disrespect (to say nothing of a serious "soft-on.")

Find real boots uncomfortable, can't afford them? Giving a little thought to what you wear can include black tennies - they're even available in leather! Sincerely, D.N.W. San Francisco, CAto you all, M.B.

Dear Editor,

The other night I picked up a copy of your magazine (#172) for the first time in a long while. I like the new design and layout. However what really floored me and had me reaching between my legs was the gargeous pertrait of Paole. The leather jacket, werkbeets, cackring, tattee and these beautiful nipgles...I'm in tvo But I also have a bone to pick with you guys. Now I'm not into the leather scene, although I am curious and probably a part of me wants to explore it. However while reading through the classifieds I was extremely disturbed to read ads by men offering to be "toilets" to consume fecal matter and urine. When I first came out fifteen years ago, I found these are shocking and repulsive. Now after 12 years of living through the AIDS crisis and living with HIV myself, I consider it more of an anti-social herror. Please understand I have no hangup about bendage or S/M. Played safely and with a creative imagination I believe the experience could be thrilling. I would leve to have my arms and ankles tied with rope and at the mercy of Paolo. Anyway, I strengly feel that the editors of Drummer in the best interests and concern for the health of the community have a responsibility to discourage these lime of ads, and by obvious extension, that behavior. Locally here, the gay press refuses to carry voice male ads that use any explicit or sexual language. Certainly you don't need the money that hadly! I think it would set a pesitive tene and example. Keep up the great work. Sincerely,

Dear Friends,

I just want to thank you so much for forwarding my letter to Trent Reed, Coverman, Issue #171. | hape it wasn't too much trouble for yea. I don't know why I included my telephone number, but I was shocked when Mr. Reed personally called to thank me for the fan mail. He made my day. Heck, he made my life! What a nice guy! Trent Reed has as sweet a personality as he is handsome and sensual. I wish he'd marry me. (I didn't have the balls to tell him that though. At the risk of sounding even sappier. I just meited at the sound of his voice and didn't know what to say.)

Thanks again for forwarding my letter, and thanks too for all of the hot men and articles and news you pack into every issue.

M.B. Chicago, IL

Dear C.M.,

This "bone of contention" has been debated for quite a while As an individual my personal tastes do not include scat and that particular type of fetish. However, as an editor of a magazine which caters to a variety of "fetish activity," I cannot assume the role of fetish police. As with many activities such as bondage, piercing, scarification, cock and ball torture, flogging (et al), we trust that the individuals involved will practice SAFE-SANE-CONSEN-SUAL. Clearly, this is not an issue of money for Desmodus. But we do, and always have, offered a bonafide vehicle for men with varied fetishes to connect through our classifieds. We need to recognize too that some extreme activity lives only in fantasy and can be shared through words OF art. DRUMMER does advocate safe and healthy behavior and encourages anyone involved with risky behavior to take necessary precautions. DRUMMER also advocates healthy, nasty, kinky activity which satisfies the beast in all of us.

IIY MARCUS HERHANDEZ

ago, (March 19th to be exact), the eighth International Ms. Leather (IMsL) was selected over 10 other contestants in San Francisco. Her name is Anne C.S. Bergstedt and she resides in Seattle, Washington.

She's a prominent attorney in the Pacific Northwest and like thousands of leather people around the world, just about now she's getting set to travel to Chicago for the big Memorial Day weekend where her male counterpart, International Mr. Leather 1994, will be chosen, possibly from a field of 50 to 60 contestants.

Since midway through last year, shortly after Henri Ten Have of Amsterdam won the title in Chicago, leather bars, bike/uniform clubs and other leather fraternal groups have been staging contests to either send a contestant directly to Chicago, or to compete in a contest at the next level or for a state or regional leather

On Memorial Day weekend, May 27-30, thousands of leather men and women will settle into the Congress Hotel on South Michigan Avenue and witness the interaction among contestants, judges, leather celebrities, the leather press (foreign and domestic) and a myriad of the many subcultures that is collectively known as The Leather

Community. And for Anne Bergstedt, her male counterpart will mount the top platform as International Mr. Leather 1994 on Sunday, May 29th, just as she did this past March. Together, they will represent our tribe as spokesmen, fundraisers and leaders in the best community of gaydom.

Much preparation, studying, tailoring of leather, advice from oldtimers, past titleholders and coaches and many speeches will have been written and rewritten and memorized. They all know that of the 50 to 60 candidates, only 20 will be chosen to fully compete as semifinalists. The 11 judges this year representing areas of the U.S. and overseas, will determine who that 20 will

Only three will assume the positions of triumph on the elevated platforms and receive thousands of dollars in prizes and gifts from sponsors around the world. In addition, the second International Mr. Boot Black will be chosen, with applications now available from IML. No speeches, posing or pre-judging here — just the guy who gets the most people to give him their voting stub after a boot shine. The boot black with the most stubs wins the contest! And in case you didn't know it, IML '92 Lenny Broberg will be the Master of Ceremonies. It should be a great event.

It is evident that IML gets bigger and bigger each

just two short months

blurted out: "I don't know her," He furthermore couldn't name the current IMsL or name the city where the annual IML Contest is held? In another venue, a contestant was asked the name of the major male leather titleholder in his city and he couldn't even do that! It's either the sponsor or the coach who failed to prepare the contestant. And when judges at IML ask these kind of questions and they cannot be time out. This year, the leather community of New Mexico will, for the first time, send a contestant to Chicago. They held their contest on March 26th, too late for this deadline as was the Washington State Mr.

Leather held on April 3rd and Mr. San Francisco Leather on April 16th. Los Angeles will, for the first time, send

Mr. Leather Los Angeles. Their contest was held at the homework. I have been judging quite a few of them this year and the paucity of knowledge of the leather community has been very unnerving. For example: at a bar contest I judged recently, one of the judges asked a contestant: "What does IML stand for?" The contestant

It is hoped that all the contestants have done their

answered, they have no choice but to eliminate the contestant. Often, there are no correct answers to questions, nor a true or false answer. Some questions are posed just to see how quick the contestant can think on his feet under stress - and answer with a reasonably knowledgeable dialogue. After all, if you're International Mr. Leather and you go out to the "provinces" and get asked these kind of questions by a person anxious to join the leather tribe, what impression will he get from a major male leather titleholder who can't tell him what he wants/needs to know? A bad one, that's what.

In the final analysis, for the judges, eliminating contestants becomes easy when the contestant cannot name one or two clubs in their city, gay-friendly politicians or know the name of major leather titleholders, male or female. The one that really blew me away was the contestant who named Lenny Broberg as the current Mr. Drummer! It is inconceivable that someone seeking the IML title does not even know the current incumbents!

At this reading, it can be assumed to be just a mite too late to recommend that aspirants to major leather titles read Guy Baldwin's tome, The Leather Contest Guide: A Handbook for Promoters, Contestants, Judges and Titleholders, if they haven't done so already.

This little $12.95 paperback published by Daedalus Publishing in Los Angeles should be available in any decent gay/lesbian bookstore. If your local bookstore does not carry it, it's available by mail order from the # publisher at 4470-107 Sunset Blvd., Suite 375, Los g Angeles, CA 90027. Countless men and women have told me that they couldn't have had a better guide and overall view for their competition. I highly recommend & it; easy to read, chock full of great tips and quite frankly, § as far as I'm concerned, it is definitely "required reading" £ for anyone who wants to wear a leather title sash or medallion.

If you're attending the 16th annual International Mr. Leather Contest in Chicago either as a contestant or a spectator, I hope to see you there; I'll be in the judging sessions most of the weekend, but I'll be out and about. Give me a reader-friendly hello. And while you're in Chicago, be sure to whistle while you lurk!

EVENTURES IN LEATHER/SM

The selection of International Mr. Leather in May doesn't mean it's the end of your leather socializing. Even as you read this, some of the city and regional competitions leading to 1994 International Mr. Drummer Finals are in progress. At this deadline, former Mr. Southwest Drummer, Pat Sanchez with a little help from the Motorcyclemen of New Mexico, have already produced the Mr. New Mexico Drummer contest; the winner will compete at the regional Mr. Southwest Drummer later this year.

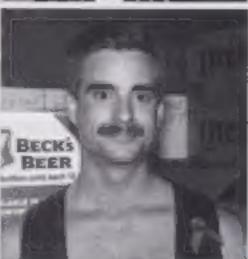

Ideas for new, different and unique fantasies are being handied about, grueling and punishing gym workouts and community involvement are already in progress. You'll be getting the regional competition dates soon. Keep reading. In the meantime, maybe some of the following will

SPANNER CONTINUED ...

Sado-masochistic sex, in private, was nothing more than 'a cult of violence.' So said Lord Templeman in giving judgement in last year's Spanner case. "An evil thing", he stated, the law could be used to stop it, whether everyone involved was a consenting adult or not.

Now being considered by The Law Commission, they propose a reformation which favors decriminalizing sade-masechistic sex between consenting adults, but only where there is no risk of serious injury.

Currently, the law covers consent to injury only while participating in dangerous sports ("manly diversions") because public policy justifies the danger. The intent is to separate injurious activity from non-injurious activity.

This is considered just a small step, given the Law Commission agrees with the Law Lords that SM sex is another form of violence; sexual pleasure is irrelevant. Also, this recommendation will only be effective if all criminal law is amended, meaning SM sex would become a special category like "manly diversions." If criminal law is amended, under the new provision, only non-injurious SM play will be considered legal. The Spanner defendants would not have been guilty under the reformed law.

But what about those who wish to consent to SM sex which results in more serious injury? Who and what will define "serious injury?" Also, why must SM activity be judged differently than violent sport activity?

Admittedly, this reform is an improvement but to treat SM sex differently than violent sports cannot be justified. What is needed, is for the law to recognize the right to consent to sexual injury thereby protecting all adults participating in SM sex, whatever the degree of injury. Ultimately saying, people may consent to whatever type of sex they choose.

To respond to the Law Commission, write before June 30 to: Conquest House, 37/38 John Street, Theobalds Road, London WCIB 280.

DOWN& DIRTY BY DYRK

Nasty "Eye Candy," O Calories

The latest from Hunhaus is Hun Comics #7 "Bare-Ass Rasslin'l" (Vol. 1) and S2 - "More Sizzlin" Stuff!"

"Bare-Ass Rasslin" 1" 18 2 fun-filled (or is it cumfilled?) look into the life of an inmate at Shady Nook prison. The rasslin' is in the buff and that's as close as it gets to the real thing (of course I'm talking about Greco-Roman wrestling)

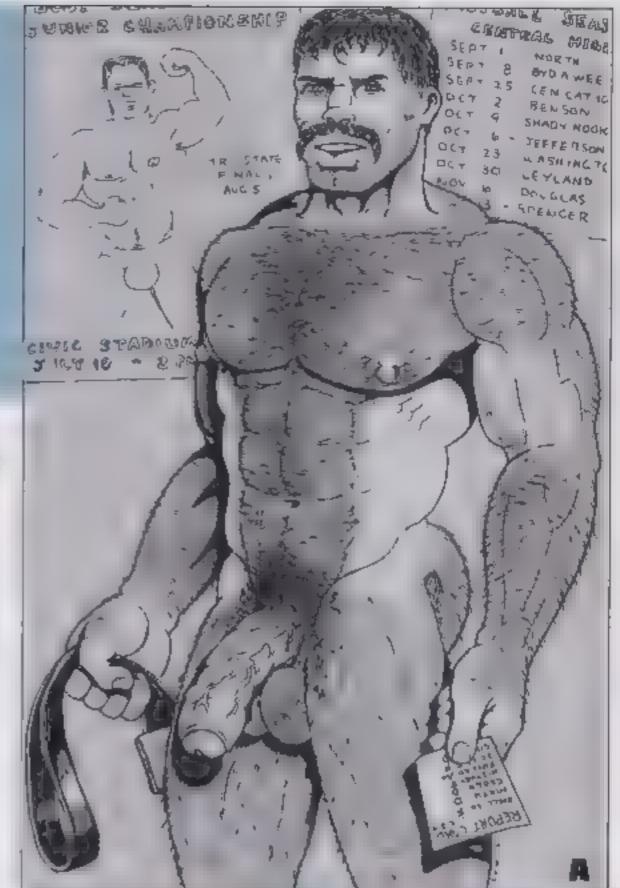

The Hun himself says, "Most often the night's matches are a thinly veiled pretext for watching deliberately mismatched pairs 'do it' in publicl...a quick pinning of the weaker opponent, then a long deep-dick 'prize-taking', as winner lays pipe to loser right there on the mats, amid the hoots, guffaws & shameless gawking of grinning guards. grimy inmates & grungy visitors!" The new inmate Bobby is paired up with big Stuff?" is a sampling of beefy Deputy Bentley and huge cocks are throbbing and leaking dick-ooze all over the place

There's plenty of text to keep the fantasy images alive and your stiff dick rigid in anticipation. The Hun admits to the story line meandering a bit, "giving us behind-the-scenes 'dirt' on rigged contests, cameos from typical matches, & a lengthy 'flashback' to summer nights on huge hairy horse-hung Uncle Ed's farm."

Of the 20-22 pages, 12 were previously published m Stroke, 10 are new and only available in this comic collection. The long edition (22 black and white pages) features the piss and scat-cating scenes that will turn your tummy or sound real yummy. Either the long edition or the short edition cost only $20 plus $2 for postage and handling humpy leatherish and militaristic dudes. Some are new, some are reproduced, none show penetration, but all are big-dicked, hairy studs just like you have come to expect from The Hun. These 18 black and white 8 1/2" x 11" prints are also $20 plus $2 for postage and handling. Order both of these from: Bill Schmelling, PO Box 11308, Portland, OR 97211, Make sure your signature states you are at least 21 years of age

Big Beefy Boys into Body Builder Bondage

Mikal Bales and the crew at Zeus have teamed up with Challenger to bring us Body Builder Bondage Wrestling - Two. In BBW-Two Donny Russo, who has been more omnipresent in the porn world than any one mortal, bodybags and smacks around the struggling Robbie Cryston and Sonny Beaudreaux. In addition to lots of squirming, slapping and verbal abuse, there is so much muffled sounds coming from behind gags that it sounds a little like the primate exhibit at the zoo.

gym's door with a delivery. He sees the two victims rolling around on the mat bed ankle to ankle, wrist to wrist and butt to butt and asks what's going on. A hot wrestling scene ensues between Dukane and Russo which leaves Russo nearly choked to death. Dukane liberates the brutalized Cryston and Beaudreaux and assists them in seeking revenge on Russo, The revenge, however, is not too horrible given they bring Russo to a pleasurable climax

I enjoyed the bondage aspects of this video and if the thought of feeling or tasting warm, foamy spit turns you on like it does me, then you should order this video (ZV-1058) from Zeus, Box 64250, Los Angeles, CA 90064. The cost is $69 plus $3 S/H. California residents must add 8.25% sales tax.

Sex Fever Strikes Falcon Boys

The men of Falcon Studios are always hard at work producing videos which make us hard. As I have said before, what they lack in variety of model types and sex scenes they make up for young studs hallucinate.

Zak Spears fantasizes about his poolside companion Brad Stone who plugs every hole Spears has with just about everything Stone has to use including his tongue, very large dick, fingers, hand and other things.
The next vignette is surely a case of sun stroke as Sean Davis is shoveling dirt

The next vignette is surely a case of sun stroke as Sean Davis is shoveling dirt into a wheelbarrow and is miraculously transported to an outdoor jacuzzi where he prepares Alex Kincaid for a deep drilling. Of course the water from the jacuzzi provides an excellent means of preparation as Davis spits it onto Kinkaid's asshole.

Then there's Cort Jensen watering the garden and the next thing you know the heat from the sun has him fantasizing about a waterhose fight with Grant Larson, Things become less playful and more sexual as the duo becomes a trio when Sean Davis walks in and joins them. Jensen ends up being skewered at both ends by big fat cocks.

mer Fever, Randall Masson goes from the moist heat of the steam room to the steamy heat of a sexual memory involving Christian Fox and Max Grand. All in all there is plenty of sucking and fucking to satisfy the vanilla in all of us.

Night Watch on the other hand is quite a bit more of what most leather men want (at least a couple of scenes qualify). This 90-minute video stars Tony Hampton, Donny Russo, Zak Spears, Dallas Taylor, Johnny Rey, Greg Ross, Dexter Crews, Jason Broderick and Tony Styles.

Scandal Magazine publisher Dalias Taylor wants to run an expose that will close the local sex club. He sends reporter Greg Ross there to find the dirt. What he sees is leather clad Zak Spears shoving a five-foot chain up Dexter Crews' asshole, Donny Russo pokingblond Johnny Rey's butt, and Tony Styles double sucking a fat cock and huge dido. As Ross wanders the club he beats a wet load from his thick dick at every turn,
he finds his hypocritical boss getting rimmed and readied for a savage fucking. After Ross plows his cock into his more than willing boss, he convinces Taylor to keep his magazine out of the scandal of shutting the club down.

For ordering inquiries write: Falcon Studios, PO Box 420750, San Francisco, CA 94142-0750 or call toll free: 1-800-227-3717. In California call: (415) 431-7722 Monday through Friday, 8.30 am to 5:00 pm,

Russo, Russo and More Russo Again

Bob Jones Productions continues to crank out video after video. The three latest otles Sgt. Russo's Private Files, Sex Clubs of San Francisco and Torture Alley are all directed and edited by Rick Bolton, written by Bob Jones, videotaped by DANE with original (demonic) music by PSYCHO. Oh yeah, once again they all star Donny Russo, amongst others.

In Sgt. Russo's Private Files, Russo spies on Max Grand getting sucked off by Philip Anderson. Bearded Brody gets caught pulling his pud as he looks through a copy of our own Tough Customers magazine. Russo wrestles him down and makes him beg for the privileges of sucking the Sgt.'s dick, sniffing and licking his raunchy ass, and licking and humping his boots

When I mention glory holes, web slings and lots of cock what is brought to mind? If you said sex clubs, then you're on track for the set-up in Sex Clubs of San Francisco. I have always thought it a great turn-on to

One of my favorite scenes was of the wheelbarrow games on the boxing ring mat. The whole set up reminded me of high school gymnastics - hot, young muscular bodies, lots of derisive language, and even more raging hormones.

About half way through the video, Marky Dukane (Zeus model of the year) comes knocking at the in a good formula and great technical productions. Their latest releases Summer Fever (Falcon Video Pac 91) and Night Watch (Mustang Video Pac 32) actually push the limits from what you may have come to expect from Falcon

The repeating theme throughout the Summer Fever is how the sweltering sun is making all these hot tuck through a glory hole. And then there is the butt plug and dildo action in the web sling which almost made me cum without touching my cock like it did the actor Devon Rexman fucking himself with a dildo. Other actors include Dylan and Harry Crews (and of course it wouldn't be a Bob Jones video if it didn't include Donny Russo!)

it is my own personal opinion that torture is small punishment for people caught defacing property. Apparently Russo and his cohort, Dylan, agree in Torture Alley. Two graffits poets are caught red-handed and they are tortured in a mild sort of way (to some the torture will seem mere hazing). The struggling and wrestling seem very realistic and brings out the true nature of rough guy actor Dylan - he is one tough motherfucker. Grunge Boy and Devon Rexman are spray painted, whipped, flogged, gagged, spit upon and then the torture starts. Rocks are put in their underwear, grass in their mouths, eigarette smoke blown in their faces, and dog food force fed down their throats

Bob Jones tearned up with Daddy I Productions to bring us Uncut Pig. Master, Trucker's Sex Dog and Muddy Pig Sex. The direction, videography and music are done by Bob Jones' regular crew

Uncut Pig Master stars Max Grand, Harry Crews and Philip Anderson in a rather tame menage a trois. The best parts of this video include Grand's grand cock and the Prince Albert and guiche piercings on Crews

A flowing garden hose and a bad lawn set the stage for Muddy Pig Sex, starring Brody, Devon Rexman and Brian Lane. These are hot men; not overly pretty or perfect. One even has facial hair! I'm not sure what Rexman. did to deserve the mud treatment he gets, but I was especially envious of the loofah-like application of the head of cabbage to his ass (maybe they were trying to shove it up his ass). When they sprayed him down to clean him off I wanted the lighting to be better so I could get a better shot of his butt hole

Trucker's Sex Dog was by far my favorite of all six of these videos. There is some excellent camera angles and close-ups of the facking. Michael Monroe and Kurt Adams are two workers being ordered about by boyish Philip Anderson. That doesn't last long when Monroe and Adams accidently spill the contents of a trunk uncovering the foreman's leather toys. They end up tieing Anderson to the truck and use a riding crop and flogger on him while he sucks on a nice big cock. They smack his butt to a nice rosy color while they shove all kinds of things up his hungry hole. I want one of those ponytail butt plugs! That's when they started making him bark and tetch toys with his mouth. Here boy

DONNY RUSSO KEEPS ON "BUSTING HIS BUTT" AND EVERYONE ELSE'S IN THREE NEW BOB JONES VIDEOS, AS WELL AS VIDEOS BY ZEUS & FALCON.

LEATHER TRAVELED BY PAT CALIFIA FROM INFORMATION SUPPLIED BY JACQUES HAPPE AND CAIN BERLINGER

a strong gay-rights movement here since the '60s and Amsterdam has the oldest leather scene in Europe. The first leather hotel and bar, The ARGOS, opened here in 1957. The bar is still in business. So for 37 years, Amsterdam has had a lot to offer to travelers who are part of the leather, SM, or fetish scene Rubbermen especially might want to consider a trip to this friendly and sex-positive city since latex is much more a part of the SM scene here than it is in the US years ago to serve as this country's principal harbor. The Dutch have been traders for centuries. The early city fathers created walls and canals.

to protect their citizens from encroaching swamps and from the forces of competitive nations. The first canal was called Singel. Sailors, traders, and streetwalkers took their pleasure along the walls, and this part of the city is still full of sex action today. This neighborhood, known as the "Wallen," is where you'll find most of the leather bars.

Every time the city grew bigger, the inhabitants of Amsterdam dug a new canal and named it after a prestigious class. There's the Herengracht (Gentlemen's Canal), Keizersgracht (Emperor's Canal), and the Prinsengracht (Prince's Canal). The much wider Stadhouderskade (Cityholder's Canal) cucles all of these. Within this area, you can still find a few dozen side canals, although many of these were filled in to become proper streets in the last century. It's no wonder Amsterdam is known as the Venice of the North.

The horseshoe shape of the city and its many canals can make it difficult to follow a map, but most of the city's residents speak English and are happy to give directions to dazed tourists.

We've divided the information below into sections to make it easier for you to find what you're looking for. If you see Trash in the Streets, pick it up. This free gay paper is SM-positive and will give you updated information about the local hot spots.

Like any major city, Amsterdam has its problems with petty theft. Even a native New Yorker will be impressed with the local pickpockets' skill. So don't carry your passport, return plane ticket, or all your cash or traveler's checks with you, especially in the saunas or back room bars. Photocopy the front page of your passport and keep that with you in case you need identification. It will suffice for most purposes.

Leather, Latex, and SM Gear

Make sure you allocate a big chunk of your travel budget for acquiring new gear. You're going to be doing a lot of cruising here, so make sure you look your roughest and toughest before you head out to the leather bars or the saunas.

Making a walk from the "Rembrandtsplein" (the rembrandtssquare) along one of Amsterdam's nicest canal's, the "Reguliersgracht" brings you to RoB Amsterdam (Weteringschans 253, tel-6254686). Founded in 1974 by Rob Meijer, a gifted leather craftsman who packaged brilliantly designed, high quality leather in an art gallery devoted to male erotic art. This erotic atmosphere gave the shop legendary status and became a focus for leatherfolk from all over the world. Early in 1994, readers from Amsterdam-based gay paper, Trash in the Streets, voted the RoB shop "best gay shop in Amsterdam" with the friendliest staff.

RoB still prides itself in being one of the best leather tailors and if you'd like to have something custom made, be sure to visit them at the beginning of your trip. But apart from custom leather, custom latex, custom boots, custom whatever-you-want, the shop is packed with what is probably Europe's most extensive line of latex and leather goodies. RoB is also the European distributor for Zeus and Close Up videos and in addition to that, has a large collection of European made SM videos. Don't forget that located at RoB is Desmodus, Inc.'s European headquarters. Questions about our magazines, advertising, etc. may be directed here. You will be able est copy of DRUMMER at RoB as well as a great number of other magazines published in Europe and the USA.

Do not worry if you do not want to рцу right there and then: The famous RoB catalogue is available to take home and to browse through. If your trip is going to involve a stopover in London, you can visit the RoB London store there at 24 Wells Street (tel. 071 735 7893), off

Oxford Street. RoB's vast selection of latex clothing and other items are also manufactured at this location

If you're into heavier sex and SM, you should go to RoB AMSTERDAM

Master Leathers (Warmoesstraat 32, tel. 6245573) used to be the Dutch branch of the London shop Expectations, before Tony Star and Bryan Derbyshire took over in 1992 and changed the name. The hotel and bar are now known as the Stablemaster, and the shop became Master Leathers. They are currently being supplied by the Clone Zone of Manchester and others

DEMASK (Zeedijk 64, tel 6205603) focuses on the straight fetish market, but is worth a look for items that you won't find Stateside. If you'd like to snag yourself a cherry straight boy, it's a good place to find out about the pansexual sex parties that take place

regularly

ROBIN AND RIK (Runstraat 30, tel, 6278924) are two friends who make custom items for a clientele which includes straight bikers as well as leath-Their corner of the ermen. Prinsengracht is a nice area in Amsterdam for a stroll One Amsterdam's newest businesses is a small company called SM TOOLS (Humberweg 12, tel. 6146745). This is a private factory owned by Bert Box Box handcrafts ingenious bondage furniture like pillories, chairs, benches, and tables. He says, "Some people want their bondage equipment to be convertible, and others have it as a multi-functional SM tool or just as living room furniture. I consider my work to be art. It's not just made out of some boards slapped together and painted black, with some hooks and nails thrown in. The tools I make are special,"

Biker Shops and Motorcycle Clubs

RIJNSPORT (Rijnstraat 44, tel 6799485) or DE LEERTENT (Sarphatistraat 61, tel. 6278090) are the shops for bikers. Rijnsport apparently knows how their customers feel about their gear, because they have a curtained alcove at the back of their shop. De Leertent carries Harley Davidson and other highly popular brand names, while Rijnsport just offers quality stuff for protection on the road

Amsterdam's representative club of the ECMC is the MOTOR SPORTCLUB AMSTERDAM (MSA). The first Sunday of every month, they have a social gathering in cafe West Indië (De Ruyterkade 110) They also organize bike runs. You don't necessarily need to have your own bike to fit in MSA is the only biker social club in Amsterdam and all are welcome to visit.

Sex Shops and Saunas

Unlike most American cities, Amsterdam is still full of opportunities for backroom sext. Most of the porn shops also have cubicles for sex (called cabins here), and there are many gay saunas.

THE BRONX (Kerkstraat 55) has been around for many years. They sell

THINGS TO KNOW

TRANSPORTATION

Most of you will arrive in Holland by plane. The cheapest way to get to the city center from Schipol airport is to take the train, it costs about 6 guiders and 50 cents, and the tho takes about 20 minutes. Make sure you take one of the trail is that goes to Amsterdam CS CS means central station, it costs 25 guiders to take the KLM shirtle bus to the city center, and a tax will cost you about 55 guiders.

This is a lovely city to walk around in, and most neighborhoods are quite safe. You can rent a bicycle itake a water taxi or a canal boat, or paddle around the canals in a canalbike

For those in more of a hunty, the tram is ideal for getting around the city, especially on rainy afternoons and nights when you don't want to walk. Lines 1, 2, 4, 5, 9, 11, 13, 16, 17, 24, and 25 all start from CS and will eventually return to this square. Lines 3, 6, 7, 10, 12, and 14 cross the city from east to west inspectors, explaining the arams to whenk for via the west. Some neopie has to hear the system, the four advice is to pay at air lies. You all has been the driver, or at a vending machine in front of CS. Tickets are called Strippenhaustert. Get the one that has Stripperi. Amsterdam is divided into zones. The center and quite a bit of the city beyond it anomalismose.

The buses and the metro (from CS to Amsterdam Southeast, also known as Bijlmer) use the same Strippenkaarten.

CONDOMS

Amsterdam's laissez faireattifude toward sex has allowed a network of public dungeons and darkrooms to flourish. You normally won't get free condoms here. You can buy rubbers in some of the bars. Try the Safe Sex Kits. You get one condom and a small packet of lubricant for a guider and seventy-five cents. Pharmacies may not carry the brand or size you're looking for, so it's a good idea to pack pienty of your favorite lube and latex so you'll be well-prepared for the hedonistic hightife.

Because many of the play areas are not well lit, be alert. Don't assume that your partner(s) will use condoms. Fortunately, in Amsterdam it's easy to wave goodbye to somebody who refuses to take precautions. Because you're sure to find somebody else just as hot in another five minutes.

MUSEUMS, AND OTHER TOURIST ATTRACTIONS

Artisteman is an ordinate of the grachtenpander (canal houses) and bridges at its tine canals are absorutely beautiful. At right, the most frequently visited parts of the canals (plus the Arnstel River) are illuminated it's a picture beautiful enough to bring tears to your eyes. So don't restrict yourself to the leather district. There's a lot to do here while you replensh your fluids for the evening's exections.

The National Monument at Damsquare may remind you of something familiar. On the other side of this square you can find the Royal Palace, originally built in the 1600's as Amsterdam's first City Hall, where the queen apparently sleeps only one night a year) and in the corner, the New Church. Behind the phace is a new department store called MAGNA PLAZA. On the top floor is a coffee shop that serves the best sachertorten in the world.

TUSCHINSKI, a six-screen movie theater renowned for its art deco beauty, is located in the Reguliersbreestraat.

Airbie further on a Holland's most majestic hotel, the AMSTEL. Another old-fashioned and luxunous hotel is THE GRAND, which was rebuilt from the second City Hall Unfortunately this one is situated in the middle of a neighborhood frequented by hookers and unices.

At the Amstel you can find the NEW CITY HALL (City Hall #3) with the AMSTERDAM OPERA HOUSE Behind the BLAUWE BRUG is the CARRE THEATER, a former circus theater, now Holland's most presignous center for the performing arts.

The beautiful buildings are the CENTRAL STATION, THE BEURS, and THE RIJKSMUSEUM Rembrandt's famous painting The Nightwatch's housed there. This bity is also the home of the JEWISH HISTORICAL MUSEUM, the archeological ALLARD PIERSON MUSEUM, the VAN GOGH MUSEUM, the HISTOR SCHIMUSEUM and the STEDEL, KIMUSEUM displaying modern art.

As an SM tourist, you might be more interested in the TORTURE MUSEUM in the Leidschestraat. This grim collection includes torture implements from all parts of Europe Graphic drawings and signs in six languages explain how they were used

The city also has many lovely parks. The biggest and busiest is the VONDELPARK Further away, between the city and Schipol is the DE NIEUWE MEER. This last area is very popular among gay men. Other interesting parks are SARPHATI-, OOSTER-RIMBRANDT-, and WESTERPARK, and the park at the WETERING CIRCUIT opposite the world famous HEINEREN BREWERY

This was the first city to erect a monument to the gay men and lesbians who died in Nazi concentration camps during World War if You can't afford to miss the HOMOMONUMENT (Keizersgracht at the Westermarkt, down the Westerkerk, very near to ANNE FRANK'S HOUSE). The second week of September gay people gather at this monument during the GALA Festival. Also, this year Amsterdam will be hosting a ROPRIDE beginning june 15 and extending through June 25. This 10 day celebration brings in gays from all over Europe and other parts of the world. **DRUMMER** will have unther coverage in an up-coming issue.**

If you'd like to get a dearer picture of gay culture in Europe, you should know that Amsterdam has two great gay book shops 8OEKHANDEL VROLJK (Paleisstraat 135) and INTERMALE (Spuistraat 25.) both have enough volumes to keep you strolling around them for hours. Intermale has a great leather 5M section, and Hans would love to help you find it.

magazines, postcards, porn videos, sex toys, and some leather accessories. They have a cinema on the premises and a few private booths in which you can watch the porn star of your dreams or put on a private performance.

Other interesting sex shops with a touch of leather are ALFA BLUF (Nieuwendijk 26), LE SALON (Nieuwendijk 20-22), and DRAKES (Damrak 61). Drakes has an upstairs cinema, and there are also private booths on the same floor. So does Le Salon, which has been trying to get a leather night going on Fridays. If you like some celluloid accompaniment to your sex, you should also check out B1 (Reguliersbreestraat 4), which has two cinemas and an incredibly cruisy darkroom on the top floor; MAN TO MAN (Spuistraat 21), and ADONIS (Warmoesstraat 92, opposite The Argos). For 11 guilders, you can come and go at Adonis until midnight, as long as you keep your ticket for proof of payment. Rush hours for cinemas are during lunch hour (12-2 p m.) and at night between 5-8 p.m.

If you still haven't gotten enough, more daytime sauna sex is available at THERMOS (Raamstraat 33; daytime). They also have an excellent restaurant.

Coffee Shops

The bars don't open here until two in the afternoon, but the coffee shops are open if you need a buzz. Many of these businesses sell refreshments which are not available over the counter in this country. Ask for a menu. It will list brand names and prices per gram. There are two great places on the same street, DOWNTOWN (Reguliers-dwarsstraat 31) and THE OTHER-SIDE (Reguliersdwarsstraat 6). Downtown is famous for their apple pie and their spacious summer terrace. THE SEVENTH HEAVEN (Spuis-traat 7) is also recommended

MANDATE coffee shop (Prinsengracht 715) also sells porn vidcos and has a small gallery. It is part of Amsterdam's only strictly gay gym

Food

In between bouts of sex and shopping, don't forget to refuel. LE MONDE (Rembrandtplein 6) and FRESKO'S (Rembrandtplein 12) offer good food and pleasant terraces to dine upon. The food at Fresko's is especially delicious. It opens at 8 a.m. during the spring and summer and does not close until 1 a.m.

MR. COCO'S (Nieuwendijk 11) advertises lousy food and warm beer, but the ribs are hot and the beer is cold and delicious. The crowd includes college students, straight English tourists, and just about everybody else.

While you're in Holland, make a point to sample Indonesian nistafel. This dish is actually a meal with several exotic courses. It's an ethnic favorite here, and not easy to find Stateside.

Leather Bars

If you're champing at the bit, SPIJKERBAR (Kerkstraat 4) opensone hour before the other leather bars. This popular establishment has a pool table, pinball machines, and seems to be the home bar for the English-speaking gay community here. The upstairs dark-room is always busy. One of the two television screens above the bar shows erotic videos; the other features cartoons. Happy hour is between 5 and 7 p. IIII

THE WEB (St. Jacobsstraat 6) and CUCKOO'S NEST (Nieuwe Zijds Kolk 6) are more or less neighbors Both are great places to visit, especially in the late afternoons. The Web is a little more heavy-duty. Its upstairs backroom is sery dark. There are two sling rooms, four cabins, and a big leather mattress room for impromptu orgies. They serve snacks in the late afternoon and host a tea dance on Sundays with a buffet. The Cuckoo's Nest is even more cruisy, perhaps because it's easier to see what (and who) you're doing. In fact, you hardly ever see people at the bar because they're all hanging out downstairs, in the aptlynamed CELLAR. They frequently host cellar parties. Every Wednesday night, they have a lottery with prizes from the Alfa Blue sex shop

The MONOPOLE (Amstel 60, opens at 4 p.m.) and the COMPANY (Amstel 106) used to be more leather-focused. Nowadays, they attract a more diverse, but still butch, crowd. The Company has a well-manned dark-room upstairs. The booths are arranged in a square and connected by glory holes. But there's still one day in the year when every leatherman in Amsterdam hangs out in this particular part of the Amstel. That's Queensday (April 30), so named not

Part of the STABLEMASTER HOTEL (Warmoesstraat 23, tel. 6250148, open 8 p.m.) is an intimate bar They host large [O parties on Saturday nights, CLUB JAECQUES (Warmoesstraat 93, across the street from Adonis, open 8 p.m.) is also known for its erotic action. On Sunday afternoons, you can find people playing Horse and Knight, Castagiato, or SM. The patrons are open and very friendly, especially on the second floor Playrooms are located on the first floor They have a sling room and St Andrew's cross, and occasionally host parties

Next to Club Jaecques is the most popular leather bar in Amsterdam, and maybe in all of Europe, THE ARGOS (Warmoesstraat 95, open 9 p.m.). This huge split-level bar with its great downstairs darkroom attracts a large crowd eager for action. On Wednesday nights, they hold a lottery with prizes from RoB Amsterdam, and RoB is planning to open up their counter in the bar.

Across the street is the EAGLE (Warmoesstraat 86, open 9 p m.). The Eagle is more popular among rubber lovers and has two darkrooms, one at the back of the bar (where you will find a sign that says, "Attention! Pickpockets!"), and one upstairs that includes toilets for watersports. As we go to press, CLUB EAGLE is getting ready to open next door. This will be Amsterdam's first leather dance club.

The owners of the COCKRING (Warmoesstraat 96) don't like to classify their club as a leather bar, but since there hasn't been a fetish-oriented dance club, leathermen who want to move to the beat are more or less forced to hang out in this popular club. There's great music downstairs. However, the Cockring has something most bars in this town do not—a coat check'. There's a big rush at closing time to get into the Cockring, since they stay open after hours.

You can share a drink with a mixed bag of locals at CASA MARIA (Warmoestraat 57). The clientele ranges from perfumed fluffs to leather guys hanging around looking for new faces. This is the most strategically located bar in the Warmoestraat. You can sit in the window and get a great image of what Amsterdam really looks like in the daytime. Kansas was never like this!

If closing time comes around and you still haven't met Mr. Right Away, don't forget you can head for the night sauna also called THERMOS (Kerkstraat 58)

Hotels

Two of Amsterdam's gay hotels cateralmost exclusively to leathermen

Book well in advance to make sure you can get accommodations! They are ANCO HOTEL (Oudeznds Voorburgwal 55, tel 6205275) and the STABLEMASTER (Warmoesstraat 23, tel. 6250148). The Anco Hotel is clean and comfortable, and offers a continental breakfast for areasonable price. They also have a very low dorm rate. There's a small, very friendly bar in the Stablemaster lobby

The Stablemaster hosts JO parties every Saturday night with only a small entrance fee

More mixed, but still gay, hotels are AERO HOTEL (Kerkstraat 49, tel 6227728), ORFEO HOTEL (Leidsekruisstraat 14, tel, 6231347), UNIQUE (Kerkstraat 37, tel 6244785), and WEST END (Kerkstraat 42, tel, 6248074).

Most hotels serve breakfast between 9 a.m. and noon. Call to check your hotel's schedule

Body Modification

If you won't already have enough trouble getting through the metal detector at Schipol on your way home, you can certainly get yourself a set of hit rings or a Prince Albert here. BODY MANIPULATIONS (Stromarkt 11, tel. 6233442) offers piercing, branding, and scarification, MR, RONALD (Kloveniersburgwal 135, tel. 6257812) does tattooing and piercing. HASU

Fiction, Fantasy, & Fact

rough Stuff

BY JACK RINELLA

"Farm Hands" is an unfinished novel in my computer's hard drive. It's a story about this guy with an SM ranch in the mountains outside of Cincinnati I think it's pretty good jerk off material, but since I wrote it while I was jerking off, that sentiment is to be expected.

I wrote it in the days when leather sex was a rare event for me, except of course that I could think about it anytime I wanted, It was the fantasy of it all that propelled my orgasms, the fiction that for me was real, at least in the moment between me and the paragraph I was writing.

Fiction is often the entrance way into the leather scene. God knows there's a lot of good stuff out there these days. Books like John Preston's Mr. Benson or Robert Payne's The Exchange are powerful fuel for our fantasy lives. I'd like to get an invite to a slave auction just to own one of the characters in the novel In Search of a Master

Many of my first leather expenences were played out in my mind, amply fed by hot stories in Drummer Magazine. Likewise, my idea of what realleather men looked like was formed by drawings like those done by Tom of Finland or Etienne.

Where else could I find fodder for my dreams? Where else could I give form to the desire for my own boy, one who would serve me sexually at any moment, ever ready to obey my every command? I still search for that perfect slave. I still wish that I really could own that ranch in the hills.

Because I read, it's easy for me to recognize the importance of the written word in our culture. What I have read has been formative in my development as a person, as a teacher, as a writer, and of course, as a leather man.

Fiction is more than fiction Good fiction is good because it portrays the truth. It strikes a cord within, exciting and informing. The characters of fiction become real within our minds and that reality makes an impact.

Non-fiction has the same effect:

through the written word our fantasy life grows. What isn't becomes what we wish would be Fantasies are wishes. As such they are the life stuff of our dreams.

But they can be more than that. As thinking, feeling, and acting men we have it in our power to transform fantasy into reality. Jules Verne's fantasy of travel to the moon was fiction in his day, reality in ours. It still amazes me that his novel placed the launch pad in Flonda. Did he have some insight into the future of Cape Canaveral?

I've studied enough metaphysics to know that creation begins with thought. Manifestation, as they say, is the result of idea and emotion, thought and energy "Whatever the mind can conceive, man can achieve," is an old

premise, still true

The classified ads in the back of this magazine are a telling list of leather men's fantasies. Dreams of dominance and submission, of fucking and owning, of fisting and pissing, of hot daddies and compliant boys take form in three or four lines followed by an address, a mail box code, or a phone number

I've answered my share of ads over the years. I can't knock their utility. Met my good friend Gary in a Drummer ad over 10 years ago. Honestly though, the fantasy of his ad and my answer never really came true

We had a great time the weekend he came to visit me. By the time his stay was over we were friends. He had arrived with the pseudonym of Mark, a fantasy really. By the time he left I knew the real Gary Our friendship has long evolved into something much better, much deeper, and far more valuable, than the "puppy dog" of Mark's (sic) fantasy. I like Gary a lot more than I could ever like that Mark of his invention.

And so my column moves from fiction to fact. It seems like a big leap doesn't it? Who ever jerks off to reality? Who'd ever buy a novel that depicted the real life of a Master and slave?

I've more than enough experience to know that the truth is much more complex, much more demanding, and far more boring than the fantasies we dream. I can wish for the full-time live-in slave, but who pays his doctors bills, his rent, his allowance?

You never read about income taxes or exhaustion in those stroke books, but both are possible, probable, and prevalent. Tales of all-night orgies get me going, but who wants to read about cleaning the house the next day?

My friend Lynn and I have spent more than a year comparing notes in our search for slaves. We're both pretty well set in what each of us wants, our fantasies are very much alike. I guess

I'm not quite as picky as he, since he tends to look a bit more for the right body type, while I'm more inclined to look for the right attitude

Yet, it's all fantasy. Real Mastery is more than giving orders over the phone. Real slavery doesn't happen until the boy makes a commitment to showing up at your doorstep.

Even then, slavery is more than 7 Garfield Avenue Hawthorne, N.J. 07506 Phone 201-238-0305 Fax 201-238-9564 showing up. One night or one weekend doesn't create the lifestyle of which fantasies are made. There are many other forgotten factors as we stroke our cocks with a lubed fist and read about the fisting party in the attic

That's not to say that I don't keep trying. I know what I want and will search and work for it until I get it. It also means that I've added more than a bit of reality to my desire

Since I desire to have a man as my own, the fantasy obviously involves two people. In fact, it includes the fantasy of a leather family but that was a column a couple of months ago, so I won't continue that idea here. It's the involvement of the other, the one who will do the submitting, get the beating, and be on the receiving end of the fucking that has to be added to my fantasy to make it real

Therein lies the difficulty. It takes courage to take the risk and submit. It takes energy to manifest the idea. Lynn and I have corresponded with no less than 20 men over the last 12 months. Each wrote and called with words of

eager submission

They all said the same kind of things: "Looking for a Man to take control," or "Eager slave with no limits will serve Your every command."

We keep our correspondence sepatate but in comparing notes we often find the same sentiments. Occasionally we'll even hear from the same guy Invariably though, the letter-writing and the phone calls become fewer and further apart. When push comes to shove, when you ask him when is he going to arrive, there's an excuse

Now I admit that they are good excuses: no money to travel: a sick mother; bad weather; can't get time off from work. More improbable though are the positive responses that go unfulfilled. I once got a postcard from a guy with whom I had been talking. I hadn't heard from him in a while, thought he had dropped out of the "process," so I called him to let him know I was still interested.

He was so glad to hear from me Yes, he surely wanted to be my slave. A few days later the postcard arrived "Thanks for calling. I'll call you soon," he wrote. And that was the last I've heard of him

I can understand that it's not easy to make the commitment of time and finances needed to enter into a relationship as deep as the one about which I dream. But even the small easy things go undone More than once I've seen myself, or Lynn, or hundreds of other leather men tell me that they were stood up. Waiting around for that "boy" to show is no fun

It's a two way street, of course. I recently chatted on the phone with an applicant from Seattle. He lamented that he had spent hours on the phone with a guy in New York who was to be his Master. When he packed up and went to New York, all he found was a man into phone sex. End of dream, end of fantasy end of fantasy Reality can

Reality can seem like a brick wall, ready to bloody our foreheads for trying to reach our goals. But what if reality is just as much illusion as illusion? Is the good life, the one worth living, no more than a stroke book? Are the only sex farms the ones in pulp novels and computer hard drives?

Sorry, guys, I think not. The idealist, the flower-child, the leather man in me knows that this lifestyle can be and is for real

Yes, it takes some getting used to. It takes a lot of learning. As my grand-mother used to say, "Roma wasn't built at the once," What is that getting used to? It's clarity, negotiation, com-

What do you want? I spent an afternoon recently with a guy who bemoaned the fact that he was single. Then he went on to say how he loved his privacy and really didn't want to let down his defenses, since he was afraid of being hurt. Did he want what he said he wanted? I think not. I think rather that he was very content to stay as he was

You want to be a full-time Master? Are you ready to take that much control, have that much responsibility, lose that much privacy, give that much direction and support? And you slaves-to-be, can you pay that much attention to one person let him take that much control, give him everything for his pleasure?

Negotiation paves the way so we know what we need to make the commitment needed to bring the fantasy

to reality

Commitment is the word that seems to scare everyone off. It ought not to do so. When I asked my last slave applicant to come back for a second visit and to stay for 10 days, it was so that each of us could see what it would be like to live with each other on a day to day basis.

I wasn't being unreasonable. The man was unemployed, staying at a friend's apartment, I have volumes of letters from him, telling me how right I am to be his Master, how much he needs to have someone to control his life, "give it structure" he politely calls it.

Our last conversation ended the process. He would rather stay in his current state than take the risk of 10 day's commitment. Sadly we cling to the status quo. Most fantasies are unlived, untried, unrealized

I watch the faces of the men and women who walk down the street and I see sadness. I wonder if it's only my interpretation, only my rose colored glasses that taints my perceptions. Is the world so full of unhappy people?

I know unhappiness. I spent years plagued with depression. Outwardly I had the trappings of success: a beautiful and creative wife, two lovely, well-behaved children, a good job, nice salary, home in the suburbs, friends who loved to party within reasonable and comfortable limits.

But at night, when the house was quiet, wife and daughters lost in their own dream-filled sleep, I would pull my copy of Drummer from its hiding place behind the fireplace and stroke my fantasies into reality.

As the months turned to years and the depression deepened, I sought therapy and through it became aware that I was Gay and wanted to live that way. Then I had to choose myself and my dreams or continue the deadening state of repression

Yes, the wife and children held much security for me. Yes, I loved them (and still do) but love of myself was important as well. Respect for the real me, the one wishing all the time for a man to sleep with, a boy to discipline, a buddy to fucic, had to happen "To thing own self be true."

And so I made the first steps to finding the life I was meant to live. I had to trust that I could do it, that within myself there would be the strength and the wisdom to know how to survive in this strange "Gay" world I had to learn a new language, a new lifestyle.

It didn't seem all that easy, but looking back it wasn't all that hard Oh, walking into Jewels in New Orleans or the Mineshaft in New York held a certain amount of trepidation, but the fear was only a shadow

Be reasonable and take those steps one at a time. Don't throw out the baby with the bath water. Don't burn your bridges behind you.

But do move forward. Test the path, take little steps. Be honest with yourself and open with those with whom you're talking. If you won't move to Kalamazoo, say so right away If you need to know details, ask for them now

Masters and slaves are a dime a dozen in the stories and stroke books, but few and far between otherwise

That's OK. You need not wish for i0 year's incarceration at the hands of the Viet Cong in order to be a real leather man. What you want in life is important to you and that is how it should be. Place your priorities first, even if that means your first priority is to another. Take pride in your fantasy and find ways to explore it, to see it, to feel it

By doing so you test it, purify it, make it true, sustainable, to shape it into a dream that can take form on this planet. Likewise it will shape you, change you so that you will have the power and the clarity to live it, to give it day to day sustenance, to make it real, whatever the hell reality is

This hardly reads like copy for an issue of Drummer. I'm not beating off and you probably aren't either.

There is more to successful leather, the kind we live and do, than fantasy. The excitement of a heavy scene, the endurance of rough play, the sight of a hot man is more than fiction come true. It is the result of work, of faith, of sweat and love

I know the world of fictional sex and imagined man-gods. I've been there in my thoughts. I go there in my reverse

More precious though are the real men in leather

Oh, they're never as good-looking as the air-brushed centerfolds or the phone sex ads. The scenes never last a lifetime nor do the orgasms shoot a quart of jism seven feet. But like Lynn and Gary, they are the warmth, the vitality, the squeezable, feelable, fuckable reality of leather

In fact it is men like them, men like you that give birth to the fiction in these pages. For fiction comes from truth and brings us back to reality Have a great month dreaming and creating on my 23rd birthday For our honeymoon, we requested the four weeks of shore leave — the full allowance for partnership celebrations. Instead of going to one of the Terran colonies closer to the station, we came here, to Habilay. We didn't want to share our happy occasion with the bustle of the New Century Festivals.

Our hotel suite in Sarie was lavish, and the legendary Habilayan hospitality we received exceeded our inflated expectations. Even so, we didn't spend much time in the room. The mountains and coastline are fabled for their beauty, and the Habilayans have taken great care of their world. Between our rented hoverjet and Sarie's excellent public transportation system, we saw plenty of the surrounding sights.

On the west end of the city are the of square, faceless, black buildings in the style Habilayans seem always to have preferred. In small climate-controlled cages at the front there are all sorts of strange beasts from Habilay itself: a creature with the body of a gorilla but the teeth and claws of a lion, an amphibious fish with poisonous barbed fins, a broad-backed invertebrate that dissolves the flesh and bone of its prey.

After a few minutes, I noticed that the animals had in common their great savagery. We saw nothing, in fact, that could be considered cuddly, or cute, or endearing: only predators with snaggle-teeth and sharp claws seemed to interest the gentle Habilayans

Past the first building or so we came to the exhibits of animals from other worlds. Many were on loan from their home worlds. Others were

"Greek Philosopher and Student."
"Priest and Altarboy." "Pirate Captain and Cabin Boy."

Mouths open, Mick and I watched the cellies. They were accoutered as modern-day convicts, wearing nothing but shackles. Thin metal restraints glittered like jewelry around their wrists, ankles, and necks. Their bodies were completely hairless from head to toe.

The cell was authentic, if I could trust what I saw on the daily news broadcasts. The ceiling was high, the walls smooth and bare. The edges of the door were invisible, flush with the surface of the wall. On the left, the lower bunk was open. Only the small blue button that opened it marked where the upper rack would be Smoking a clovestick, the "stud" sat on the bunk with his back against the wall. His "bitch" knelt on the floor, sucking the stud's cock. The cables running from the back of the bitch's collar to his bracelets had been shortened so that his hands were drawn

high up his back

The stud was an inch or so above average height—6 foot 8 or 6 foot 9 at most—but his build was considerably better than normal. His shoulders were broad, his belly rippled with muscle, his thighs heavy enough to crush stone. His cock, too, was above average: at 11 inches or so, it was a good match for his frame. In its straining, throbbing hardness, it was a deep

The bitch was only about six feet, making it clear how he'd become the stud's sexual slave. His body was slim and lean, and without hair he seemed boyish. His cock — shorter than the stud's by half — was circumcised, an unusual feature almost certainly associated with his bitch status shade of purple.

Finishing his stick, the stud leaned forward and put it out on the bitch's ass. There were hundreds of burns where he'd done the same thing before. The bitch knew better than to protest.

Standing, the stud motioned for the bitch to climb onto the bunk Without question or hesitation, the bitch obeyed. Touching a button at the back of the bitch's collar, the stud shortened his cellie's cabling even more, drawing the smaller man's arms and legs into a painful-looking knot public gardens. High walls of smooth bluestone screen out the noise of the city. Constant breezes from Mount Kiyamor keep the gardens cool and pleasant even on the hottest days. Among the vast triangular beds of Brokenroses, the sweeping curved patches of open faces, and the sparkling blue-water fountains, we felt we were in the garden of an ancient king.

Rising against the foot of the mountain at the far end of the gardens is a kind of zoo or museum of natural history (the Habilayan word for it includes a sense of each). Mick and I stumbled upon it by accident in the third week of our visit.

The museum is housed in a jumble captured by intrepid Habilayan hunters. Holographic imaging gave visitors an idea of every animal's natural habitat. More importantly, to the dumb animal the holographic world was infinite, giving it the illusion of freedom.

Near the end of our wanderings, Mickey and I saw a sign that made us break into cold sweat: "The Homo Sapiens Building," it said. Inside, in cages no bigger than those given to the Arcturan orangutans, men were exhibited in pairs.

My pocket translator helped me with the placards underneath the exhibit windows: "Cellmates," one said. "Cowboy and Indian," said another.

ustration by Grey No.1

Extending his own cabling to its limit, the stud wrapped it around his bitch's genitals. Even at its full span, the length of the cable did not allow much creativity, but two or three turns were all he needed. The bitch's cock flushed a shade darker

With his victim's cock and balls trapped, the stud slapped, poked, beat, and jabbed at them. Always the stiff pole came back for more. The bitch

moaned

Dancing like an ancient boxer in a primitive arena, the stud pulled his bitch's goods this way and that. The thin cable sawed mercilessly at the base of the moaning slave's cock and balls. The stud jabbed hard at the bitch's glistening-tight ballsac. Helpless to avoid the blows, the bitch groaned and shook. His cock never wavered in its hardness.

The stud unwrapped his bitch's balls. The cable slipped away, revealing a thin ragged cut alongside the slave's cock.

Just then, Mickey pulled me from the window. I'd been so busy watching the cellmates and rubbing my own crotch that I hadn't noticed that he'd wandered away.

"You have to see this," he said, breathless. His hand was sweaty and warm on my bare forearm as he led me toward the back of the building

He'd found one of the masterpieces of the whole museum. Open to view on three sides, the exhibit depicted a town square in the infamous Folsom Colony, a Terran colony in the Dionysian system where, for the last half of the 23rd Century, sexual slavery was legal.

For 58 short years it lasted, before it was destroyed. Terrans were scandalized. Heteros briefly took to calling their partnerships "marriages." Politicos made speeches on the Council floor begging for a return to simpler times. A few small provinces in Africa and Southwest Asia tried to set precedents by passing local forced reproduction ordinances.

But all of that had passed by the time Mick and I were born. During our separate childhoods — his on the moon and mine in East California — we read everything we could about the colony's history. It was a dream come true. It was Eden!

At the Academy, our mutual interest in the colony brought us together. We bought each other books about it and spent free weekends living out the fantasies we'd built around it. We grew wistful as we spoke of the freedom it represented, sullen as we thought of its demise.

The colony's photographic records had been destroyed, but by some mitacle the Habilayans had prepared an exhibit that exactly matched my mental picture of the place

Across the front stood a dozen pallories. Rough-hewn from goldenwood trees, they glistened in Dionysus's powerful light. Each pallory held a naked slave sentenced to public punishment. Welts and bruises over most of their tan bodies bore witness to the severity of their ordeal, but none were being punished at the moment

Behind them, the dusty square buzzed with activity. Men in jerkins and boots of black leather led their naked, collared, shackled slaves on the day's business. Merchants in adobe huts specialized in the equipment of torture and bondage; many of the Masters were having their slaves fitted for chastity devices, anal inserts, gags, and restraints. Nearly a hundred men were involved in the exhibit, all of them mouth-watering examples of the male form

We didn't have long to wait to see more urgent action. A Master and slave approached the pillory on the end nearest Mickey and me. The slave in the pillory was hairless, no doubt having been shaved as part of his punishment. His slim, muscular body was deeply tanned. The head of his stiff cock bore the angry blush of sunburn. As the men's shadows fell over him, the pilloried slave grew still, then began shivering with either fear or desire

The Master's slave could not have been more than 16 years old. His young body was fully — almost ndiculously — packed with bulging muscle that dwarfed both his cock and his face. His Master had allowed him to keep the hair on his head, but his crotch and chest and limbs were bare

The Master pushed his slave to his knees. Needing no further direction, the Master's slave knelt on the base of the pillory and buried his face in the older slave's ass, feasting on the hairless hole. The Master, drawing a strap from his belt, began whipping both his slave's ass and the pilloried slave's back

In a nervous rush of New English, the pilloried slave thanked the Master for each stroke: "Un, Mas, tank, Mas. Toe, Mas, tank, Mas. Tary, Mas, tank, Mas. "

Beyond them, another Master had found his slave fondling another slave. Exploding in anger, the Master drew a cat-o'-nine-tails from his belt and ordered both slaves onto the ground. Trembling, the slaves obeyed. Acrowd gathered instantly.

Almost in unison, the slaves begged for mercy: "Mas, us dint min. .Pulse, Mas, us dint...Dunt, pulse, Mas, dunt."

Unmoved, the Master brought the whip down on their asses. The knotted strands of the cat drew blood from the first stroke, cruelly tearing the skin on the slaves' backs, asses, and legs. Still, among their gasps, groans, and screams, we heard their breathless cries of "Pulse, Mas, pulse, dunt, Mas, pulse,"

Some of the Masters in the crowd made their own slaves watch the punishment as an object lesson. Others were too aroused for that; they unbuttoned their codpieces and forcibly took their slaves' mouths.

Mickey and I have trouble controlling our urges under the most stifling of situations, as we watched this sudden orgy, we were swept away with last. Falling to my knees, I to ught with his trousers and pulled his hard

His throbbing pole slipped easily down my gullet: it knew the way very well. Mick held my ears and bucked hard against my face. The smell and taste of him filled my head until all I could think of was getting his hot juice down my throat. While he drilled my mouth, I slicked him with my tongue.

With an angry shout he pushed hard into me one last time. Dumping into me, he held me against him. He pressed his booted foot into my crotch, trying like hell to hurt me. He did, but not nearly enough

With some embarrassment, we noticed that we weren't alone. As Mick hastily buttoned up, a Habilayan approached from the corner where it had been watching. The indescent skin across her—its—chest and belly glittered in stripes of blue and dark green, an unusual combination.

Reaching for my translator, I grasped for the Habilayan for "sorry" or "excuse me." The open display of sex or genitalia is universally supposed to be a major social gaffe on Habilay.

To my relief, the Habilayan spoke the Terran Common Language perfectly: "I hope you enjoyed yourselves," it said. Its face beamed with cordiality. Mickey smiled. "Yes, yes, we did This is quite an exhibit, isn't it?"

"Thank you," the Habilayan said, "I designed it. I'm the Homo Sapiens Curator."

"I have to ask," I said, wiping Mick's scum off my chin. "These aren't really people, are they?"

"No, no, of course not. These are mechanical representations of Terrans programmed with very complex artificial intelligence routines."

Micknodded; artificial intelligence was his field. They talked shop while I pretended to be interested. The Habilayan bragged that the "mechanical representations" never duplicated routines.

"I'm a little ashamed to admit it," it said, "but we find your sexual habits extremely fascinating. This is the most popular building in the — 200, is it? Museum? — and our guests would be very disappointed if they saw the same show each time."

The curator walked us out. I noticed as we passed the cellmates that the cuts around the bitch's cock and balls had disappeared. He lay on the floor, his arms and legs spread, while the stud repeatedly kicked his crotch. The bitch gasped and moaned but did not protest or call out.

"There are also male-female and female-female exhibits," the Habilayan said at the door to the Homo Sapiens Building. "You must come back and see them."

Mick thanked the curator and promised we'd be back.

Squinting in the brilliant sun, Mick and I took our time and walked back to the hotel. Midday in the streets of Sane can be a beautiful sight — thousands of Habilayans take to the streets, and their jeweled skins glitter in the sun's pure white light — but it is also disorienting.

It's impossible for a person of gender to understand — really understand — the Habilayan's sexlessness. Whatever reproductive organs they have are clearly internal, eliminating the need for modesty and, for most, clothing. But their entire reproductive system is a mystery; they will privilege no one outside their species with knowledge of it.

I could not help thinking of the Habilayans as being female, since they are nearly a foot shorter than Terran men on average, their features are delicate, and their voices are mostly in the alto range. It was a constant battle to remember that they were neither male nor female Terrans automatically look to facial features as the symbol of individuality and a means of recognition, but Habilayans' facial features are not distinctive. Instead, they recognize each other by the unique patterns of jeweled skin across their bellies, chests, and backs. The jeweled skin is mostly inclastic and tough — squamous, really — and it apparently serves to protect the tender internal organs.

The curator had admitted to the Habilayans' fascination with our sexual habits, which did nothing to help me keep their sexlessness in mind. As a child on Terra, I'd heard tales of the Habilayans, the strange creatures who were exceedingly kind to humans, but railed at the mention of our bestial sexual habits. If they were so offended by our sexuality, why did they build a monument to it?

I discovered that I'd been thinking aloud when Mick answered my question with a question: "Why are Terrans so fascinated with the repressive culture of the early 21st century? It's partly a sick feeling of pleasure you get from looking at something and knowing that nature must have taken leave of her senses that day, but it's mostly plain old curiosity. We wonder how someone could live with constant intrusion on private life, the denial of basic medical procedures, the rhetoric about who should and shouldn't have rights. We hope we'll figure out how it could happen just from looking at it long enough."

I nodded; he was right, as usual. I made a mental note to reward him when we got back to the hotel.

On the eve of our last day, Mickey and I went back to the museum. In our shockand excitement, we'd missed most of the Terran exhibits the first time. Now we wanted to see the rest.

Through some misunderstanding of the Habilayan clock, we arrived just before closing. We had barely enough time to begin drooling over the Cowboy and Indian before the Habilayan curator came around to usher us to the exit. She — it — recognized us.

"Good evening," it said. "I expected you much sooner than this,"

Smiling, Mickey said, "Your city has so much to offer. We couldn't spare the time until now."

The curator allowed a small grin.
"The zoo is about to close, but there is a new exhibit under development. If you'd like to see it, I'll show it to you in a few minutes."

We nodded, rubbing our crotches.
"Wait here," the curator said with a broad smile. It hurried away

While we watched, the exhibits went dark. The carefully constructed holographic worlds disappeared without cereinony. Rough hands pulled the mechanical actors from their cages. The building grew still

The curator returned on silent feet, startling us as it drew near. "This way, please," it said

Following the Habilayan, we ducked through a low doorway and into a narrow room. The walls were bare, revealing the building's dull gray bones. In the distance I could see two of the Folsom Colony figures being carried away. The curator led us in the opposite direction.

Along the wall to our right were the doors into the holographic cages. Small square placards above them bore Habilayan inscriptions to match the spiky script of the exhibit placards. I guessed from my visits on the other side of the wall that we passed the Cowboy and Indian, the Priest and Altarboy, and the Twin Brothers. I pulled out my translator, but we were moving too quickly, I couldn't type in the characters quickly enough.

The curator stopped at a door that resembled all the others and pressed a button to open it. I pocketed the translator and dropped my jacket to the floor. My hand in Mickey's and my heart in my throat, I stepped through with our breath and the heat of our bodies as we fell together. His mouth was on my mouth, taking me. He fucked my mouth roughly with his hard tongue. His hands found my ass, his fingers gripped and squeezed me, sizing me up. In the moist heat of my skivvies — all I was wearing — my asshole clenched, ready for him, hungry for him.

But he had something else in mind first. He stepped away from me and crouched in front of the duffel bag he'd brought with him. Without the support of his body, I grew dizzy from the rolling of the ship.

Sneering at me over his shoulder, he said, "Something wrong, Private?"

"N-no, Sir." But something was wrong. I vaguely felt that I'd forgotten something, something very important. I looked around the compartment. Thinking slowly and calmly, I reminded myself that I was aboard the Corcoran. That the Lieutenant had brought me here, to the weight room, on some flimsy excuse — I couldn't remember it now. And that I'd known all along what he really wanted.

So here we were, alone together in the weight room. My cock was hard and tenting my skivvies. The Lieutenant's ass was round and firm and made my mouth water. The bulge in his trousers proved that his cock was as ready as mine.

All was as it should be, yet something was missing. A door — what the fuck was it about a door?

The Lieutenant turned; he'd been rigging a couple of lead fishing weights to a loop of cord. They dangled from his spread hand, twisting in the air

"Are jarheads tough, Private?"

"Aye aye, Sir. Jarheads are the toughest fuckin' men on the planet,

He frowned, as if he'd expected a different answer, but he said, "Knew you'd say that. Drop 'em, soldier."

I hastily obeyed. I stripped off my skivvies and tossed them onto the pile in the corner with the rest of my uniform — or meant to, at least, until I saw that there was no such pile.

The Lieutenant squatted in front of me. He grabbed my balls, none too gently, and slipped the loop of cord around them. My piece, spoiling for a fight, smacked him in the chin. My balls tentatively took the weight.

He stepped over the pile of my clothing in the corner and picked up my boots. He tossed them to me, and when I leaned to catch them, the weights pulled hard on my 'nads.

"Hold these, Private. Arms out."
"Aye aye, Sir." I obeyed, stretching myarms to the sides in a classic planton.

He was behind me. He kicked my feet apart, "Spread 'em nice and wide.

That's it."

Wait. Back up. I stared at the heap of olive drab in the corner. Hadn't I looked there a minute ago? Hadn't the corner been bare?

"I'm waiting, Private," he said

"Sir, I'm sorry, Sir. I didn't hear

He moved closer and spoke directly into my ear. "Swing the weights, asswipe. Now."

"Aye aye, Sir." I wagged my ass for him, letting the weights pull my nuts in a wide back-to-front arc. Almost immediately I felt the stretch and pull deep in my belly.

My arms were already growing weak. "Keep those arms up." His belt sang as he yanked it out of the loops.

"Aye aye, Sir."

The first stroke fell across both ass cheeks and stung like hell. Without thinking, I cried out and stopped swinging the weights. The second stroke made the first seem like a caress.

"Don't think about the belt. Think about the weights and the boots. I won't tell you again."

"Aye aye, Sir."

He whipped my back and ass and legs without mercy. The belt seemed to fall harder each time. My balis ached to the roots, and my arms quivered on the verge of dropping. Vaguely, I heard myself begging for him to stop. I swore I'd do anything.

"I'll stop," he said. "Do you want me to stop?"

"Yes, Sir, please, Sir, yes, Sir, please, Sir."

"I'll stop if you tell me what a jarhead pussy you are."

"I'm a jarhead pussy, good for nothing but fuckin' up the ass, Sir. I'm a fuckin' jarhead pussy asshole, Sir."

"And tell me why you have a mouth, Private."

"I have a mouth so I can suck cock, Sir. So I can make real men happy, Sir. So I can give pleasure to the real men who would never let a cock in their mouths, Sir." He was still beating me, but his voice was smooth "And why should I feed my healthy, clean, straight babymaker to the filthy queer likes of you?"

"Because I live for cock in my mouth, Sir, and I'll give it every ounce of strength I've got, Sur."

"Good enough." He gave me one more, areal killer that rattled my bones. "Suck me, soldier, but don't you dare drop those boots."

"Aye aye, Sir,"

I turned to face him. His cock poked from the front of his dungarees. It was a real monster, a handful longer than my own. The thick round knob was already slick with precome. I sank to my knees, careful not to let my arms fall. To my dismay, the weights did not reach the floor and relieve my halls of their burden.

ing a strap from his belt, began whipping both his slave's ass and the pilloried slave's back.

Smacking my lips, I snaked my tongue into the folds of foreskin around the shiny pink head of his tool. He was clean, which surprised and disappointed me: I'd been hoping for a salty lick of cheese. Slowly, I worked him inside of me. He fit neatly into the back of my throat, and I swallowed him with pleasure

He groaned and, lacing his fingers together at the back of my head, he took over. Endlessly and savagely he bucked into me, until my head spun with the pleasure of his thrusts and, without regret, I dropped the boots. He did not seem to mind, and when I put my hands on his round ass to whet his ferocity he did not accuse me of insubordination.

At last he shuddered against me and slammed home one last time. I braced myself, waiting for a deluge of squid juice, but none came. Panting, grimacing, grunting, he resumed his humpery. He fucked so hard that I choked on him, but still no spunk...

...from nowhere — from everywhere — a soft alto voice: "That's enough."

The Lieutenant let go of my head. There, where there had once been an ordinary bulkhead, was the door.

"Oh, that door," I thought, and the world disappeared — the mysterious uniform piled in the corner, the rolling of the ship, the weight on my balls — all replaced by the clear glass of the cage and the dark exhibit hall beyond.

"They'll do nicely," said the curator. "Take them."

Two Habilayans — the burbest I'd yet seen and the first I could think of as male — yanked us from the cage and dropped us at their feet. While Mick and I lay drained and helpless on the floor, the curator dressed them down. He—it—spoke in the Terran Common Language, presumably for our benefit.

"More gas next time. I want this exhibit to be marked by great brutality. And change the routines. The bigger one" — Mick—"should be the tarhead."

It — the curator smiled cruelly, mocking us — "He has the better body. Besides, who will believe a sailor could be forceful enough to handle a Marine like that?" Another mockery, no doubt; Mick and I were only sailors of a sort, but we were certainly not Marines.

The curator said something else in Habilayan, speaking bitterly and with great wrath. I understood one often repeated word, "farh," meaning clothing, and guessed that the curator was not happy about the missing pile of jarhead uniform.

My jacket lay where I'd dropped it, easily within my reach. At the mention of clothing, I clutched at it. I hoped against all reason that I'd brought along some kind of weapon. I believed I'd tound it when my fingers brushed a smooth, plastic surface in the left pocket, but it was only the translator. Making sure the curator and his goons didn't see me, I palmed it.

Abashed by their superior's angry words, the curator's brawny assistants lifted us roughly over their shoulders and carried us to a large holding cell.

We've been here ever since, fucking all day for public entertainment in the Jarhead and Squid exhibit, sleeping and eating at night with the other meat puppets in the cell.

Later that night, we learned what the curator meant by "more gas." They pump it into the cages to increase sexual potency and speed the body's healing processes. It's also hallucinogenic, making the virtual world of the cage seem all the more real. When the gas wore off, our balls felt as though they were being smashed to bits with a mallet.

For most of us the gas wipes out big stretches of memory at random. I'm one of the unlucky ones. I can remember everything. I have to look into my partner's eyes every day and see that he has no idea who I am. And worse, I know that, to him, I'm just some pussy squid who needs a good fucking to put him right.

Once, while Mick was trying to fuck some sense into my worthless squid butt, one of the bulkheads faded slightly, and I suddenly found myself straddling the two worlds. 20th century Terra aboard the Corcoran and 25th century Habilay inside the 200.

In the darkened exhibit hall two Habilayans moved swiftly, binding a Terran — the young, muscled slave we'd seen in the Folsom Colony pillory on that first day — to a kind of slab suspended between two slender columns. The slab pivoted on its supports; the Habilayans raised him so that he was nearly vertical.

The Terran slave tested the leather cuffs that held him spreadeagled. As he settled into the helplessness of his bondage, his cock throbbed to its fullest length and girth.

Mick's sweat drenched me as his thick pole split my ass. Seeing the young Folsom slave in front of me freshened my desire; I snuggled my ass against Mick's belly, urging him deeper.

As if obeying my sense of curiosity, the bulkhead faded further. One of the Habilayans was the curator, I saw now. Its companion was younger — judging by the splendor of its jeweled skin — and much larger. Their colors shone as if lit from deep inside their bodies. Glints of orange and red and blue dazzled me

crooning obscenities into my ear. He was approaching his climax with grim zeal, forgetting that it was hopelessly blocked by the gas, that he would not have his release.

The curator's companion wheeled a small cart alongside the slab. The Terran, staring at the cart, panicked. He struggled against his bonds, to no avail.

Mick slammed into me one last time, bellowing in rage. I slumped underneath him, broken. I missed feeling his sweet liquid flood my ass, missed the passion and tenderness in his touch that was meant for me and not some cherry sailor boy he barely knew

Mick tangled his fingers in my hair, pulling it like reins as he mindlessly fucked me, forcing me to face the action in the exhibit hall.

The curator brandished a knife with a very thin blade -a scalpel. He—it — let the light glint off its shining surface, blinding me. I knew then that the bulkhead had not disappeared because of a malfunction, or because of the force of my will, or for any other reason but this: The curator wanted me to see what happened next. Knowing by now that I had kept my memory, it had prepared this as some kind of warning to me

With great care, the curator lifted the slave's balls away from his body. Though the boy trembled and sweltered under the weight of his naked terror, his cock only grew harder.

The curator made a single long cut from one side of the scrotum to the other. At first I thought the cut had missed its mark somehow, or that the scalpel was dull, or that the curator had faked the cut to confuse me. But then a film of blood washed the slave's legs — the flow matching the pulse of the slave's softening cock — and the testes dangled in the curator's hand.

The Terran slave passed out, and the Habilayans paid him no further attention. He would bleed to death, but he would go peacefully.

The curator neatly severed the cords and tubes and muscles that held the testes in place. In its small hand the naked, blood-slicked orbs appeared freakishly large.

Mickey grabbed my nipples, twisting them sharply while he rammed me. I barely felt him

Dropping the scalpel, the curator beckened its companion, who came as called and then knelt. The curator dropped the larger of the slave's testicles into the younger Habilayan's mouth. Closing its eyes, it chewed slowly. A small grimace passed over its face, but then it smiled and rose to its feet.

The curator are the other testicle, licking the blood off it for my benefit, rolling it around on its tongue, savoring every bite of it.

Facing each other, the two Habilayans linked hands. While I watched them in profile, the smooth, blank skin in the forks of their legs began to swell and pulse. Soon I realized what was happening: they were growing penises. The two members rose, bumped heads, and crossed Bare of foreskin, showing no veins, lacking a clearly defined glans, the columns were formidably long and thick, but rather more plain-looking than their Terran equivalents. Instead of hair at the base, the jeweled skins cowled in a kind of wrinkled cushion. Sacs of tight, smooth skin drawn close to their bodies apparently held their balls or some equivalent organ.

At last — now that I could not possibly care — I knew the secret of the Habilayans' reproductive system.

It was the simplest and most commonly offered explanation: they were not sexdess at all. Each was potentially male or female, and developed genitals appropriate to the role it was about to take. The infusion of hormones from the Folsom slave's gonads rapidly caused these two to become males.

And, when they were both fully and impressively male, they set out to mock me with their sport-fucking. Surprisingly, the curator was not the dominant partner. He knelt before his companion and opened his mouth wide to accept the younger man's broad member.

He licked the underside sweetly and gently, in a way that made me hungry for the old familiar tenderness between Mickey and me. The younger man allowed the gentleness for only a moment, then slammed home in a single smooth stroke

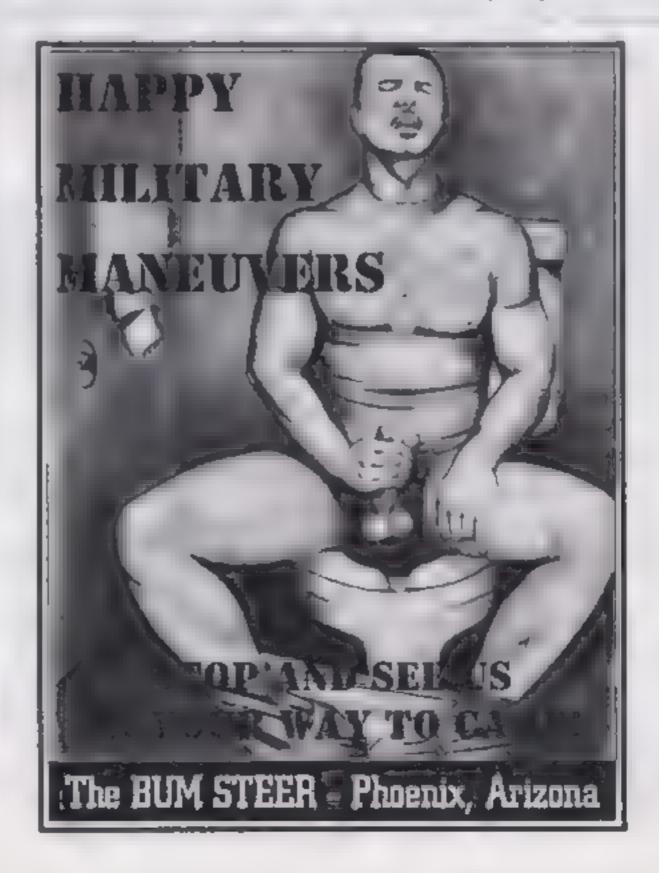

As if following their lead, Mick rammed his cock soundly up my bunghole and held it there — pretending, perhaps, that he was coming. My bawling allowed him to boast of his own prowess

The curator's companion had little patience for fellatio. He soon arranged the curator on his belly and, searching with his blunt pole for the tiny, hidden anus, rammed home. Their fucking was animal, as savage as the feeding of the tigers and bears on exhibit in the zoo. They scratched and howled and bit. They shook and roared and fought.

They came and came and came.

It took me several days of reprogramming and several weeks of typing, but I've stored this text on my pocket translator's microchip. I only have a little more space left. If you've found the chip and broken the code, you are probably Terran. Please forward it to the Terran diplomatic haison

I am almost certainly dead by now. No one is coming to rescue me, I know, and even if someone were, this is the last place anyone would look. Escape is even less likely, and after more than a month of daily exposure to the gas, it's not even a good idea. A tame animal isn't capable of surviving outside of captivity.

Saturday night: March 7: 1992

He was waiting when Lance arrived, exactly as he'd been told to do. The door from the garage was unlocked, the stereo played a soft classical guitar arrangement; the lights were turned down until the only illumination was a deep red, so muted it seemed almost tangible. In the center of this stood Carlos, naked except for the hood over his head, and the bands of metal and leather that secured his wrists behind his back, his ankles in a wide-spread stance, and his balls in a deep, leather-clad distention

Lance moved quietly, knowing his presence had not yet been discerned. He had arrived late — not by very much, just enough that Carlos had to be concerned, wondering if his Master might fail to appear, fearful that no one might disover him in his self-effected bondage before his strength gave out and his body became suspended from the steel chains looped around his neck and fastened to eye bolts in the ceiling.

Lance closed on him, seizing both his nipples with leather-gloved fingers. He gripped them hard, deliberately causing his subject pain as the flesh twisted within his grip. He could hear the prisoner sigh and suck a deep breath inside his hood. He wore the old leather head covering Lance had given him, with a snap-on gag and blindfold. Both were in place, again in keeping with the Master's instructions. Carlos could neither speak nor see; and there was padding at the sides, over his ears, to restrict his ability to hear With the gag pressing down his tongue and the leather odors filling his nostrils, the only totally remaining sense was tactile. Which meant he could sense the warmth of Lance's body as the leatherclad Master stood close to hun, or the touch of kidskin gauntlets upon his flesh for the pain that might be inflicted with any of the numerous straps, scourges and whips which hung along the wall behind his naked being

Lance grasped the hood with both hands, scraping leather across leather to make the rasping sounds echo, magnified in his captive's brain. "Hey, how's my favorite Chicano cocksucker," he whispered against the hood, knowing it would aggravate his captive. Carlos was South American, not Mexican, and hated to be mistaken for the latter. "I hope your tight little home-boy ass is ready for me, Esse," I ance taunted him

The rigidly bound figure tried to answer, a muffled "Yes, Sir," probably. A nod of his leather-covered head. He could manage no more than this, and the insult served only to heighten his sense of humiliation — hence his arousal

Lance ran his hands over warm, naked skin, testing the firmness, although he knew it well, and knew, too, that he would find no patch of fat, no sagging flesh anywhere on this body. Carlos had been a regular for over a year, a confirmed bottom who nonetheless refused to bond with anyone he didn't know - or who had not been a referral from someone he trusted. Born in northern Colombia, he had come to the United States as a child when the cartels drove his family from their extensive holdings in the area of Serrama de San Jeronimo. But he was now as American as anyone Lance knew, although he still retained a certain quality that sometimes made him seem almost European — a proper man with the ethnic beauty of his ancestral, Castillian homeland: dark auburn hair that appeared black under the restricted lighting conditions of his dungeon. Of course, that was covered now, except for the curly patch above his ample genitals. Likewise, his startlingly light green eyes were concealed beneath the hood

He was not tall, the top of his head coming barely level with the center of his companion's face as Lance stood before him, pulling his captive's velvety warmth against the leather chaps that covered the Master's legs, against the rising lust protruding from both their loins. Lance felt the contours of Carlos's muscular being through the tightly fitted shield of leather that covered his own lower body. Above this, the Top wore only a vest, cut so that most of his chest was exposed. This allowed him the powerfully intimate contact that almost mistook itself for a greater emotion, nearly melted his lust to deliver the punishment he knew the other man desited

Lance did love him; and while he had never admitted this aloud, he felt almost protective toward this intelligent, handsome being who so desperately craved an increasingly heavier abuse. Carlos was a true, uninhibited masochist. He loved to receive pain, and he took enormous pride in his ability to bear whatever his Master might demand of him — pride as well in the subsequent display of his lash marks and bruises. He would probably not have been happy to receive some permanent scar or injury, but he knew Lance would not subject him to these.

For his part, Lance forced the more restrictive thoughts from his consciousness, and gave the supplicant his due—reassured by the response to every blow a groan or sigh, always more of pleasure than any expression of distress. Nothing he could do to him — at least nothing he would do to him — was likely to produce a different response. And this was the crux of it, really. Carlos was comfortable with Lance, knowing exactly how far it might go — and Lance with him, because he knew, in turn, exactly how much punishment his subject could take. Only now he had to work himself into it, had to feel the lust building in his balls before he could give the bound and helpless figure the full measure of his cravings.

Then the fluids were flooding through Lance's lower body. The harsh desires were taking possession of him, and he reveled in the high of power and control as he lashed his partner's unprotected back and buttocks. He was using a rubber cat, a scourge that caused only moderate pain, but which left longer-lasting marks upon his slave's milk white skin. He could see the tracks only dimly, than gradually darkening until they appeared almost black under the deep red glow Tomorrow they would stand out stark and angry in the sunlight when Carlos lay beside the pool; and his guests would whisper among themselves. He would do this, even if the chill of early spring still hung in the air - strip off his shirt and parade himself in the sunlight to display his "battle scars." Carlos regularly hosted a Sunday brunch — every second week even if he was kept busy and awake all the previous night. In the bright light of day he was a celebrated man, known and respected for his business skills and stock market wisdom - and his wealth. But tonight, in the darkness of his dungeon, he belonged to another, his body given Willingly to this one man who had earned his total trust.

Lance took him down and repositioned him on a flat medical table that served as a rack. Various appliances had been attached to adjoining walls and to the floor, enabling the Top to secure his subject in any of several positions and to use many different types of devices on his body. Once he had the lithe, slender form strapped down, arms and legs extending over either end of the table, the Top stood back to admire the results of his efforts He watched the heavy cock begin its gradual enlargement, recovering from its lethargy during the several minutes it had taken Lance to reposition his subject Now, desire was flooding back and the powerful tool was filling out to stretch in seeking demand across the firm, flat midsection. Lance smiled to himself, remembering how different it had been the first time they had worked together. That was over a year ago, and Carlos had come to him in a state of frantic desire, heavily tinged with fear. His experience with SM and bondage had been largely fantasy. His only actual exchange had been with other youngsters during his last year of high school, with none of them knowing exactly what to do, or how to do it. When

Lance had stripped him down, admiring the perfection of tightly displayed muscles, he had not been immediately impressed with the cock, which had shriveled so completely as to all but disappear into the auburn pubes. But Lance had applied a simple rope bondage, securing his subject to a narrow cot - smaller than the one that now served as a bondage table. When he looped the cords about the base of the tightly contracted genitals, the cock had given a sudden spasm, and as the bondage tightened around the base, it had continued to swell until the hooded crown reached to within a hair's breadth of the navel. Then it had lifted and fallen under its own power, as if responding to some stimulus beyond the understanding of reach of either participant. And after a few moments of this, it had suddenly crupted, shooting a cascade of creamy jism all across the tightly restricted flesh, casting a sodden. inc up the center of the chest, puddling in the depression below the neck and even striking the chin

But there would be no premature ejaculation tonight. After a year of mutual exchange, the two men were so well mated, the timing of their interaction was no longer a problem that needed much planning. Everything happened exactly as it should, with neither having consciously to concern himself about the other's responses. That, at least, was the overt perception on the part of Carlos, who harbored no trace of anxiety over entrusting his body - and, in effect, his life — to his long-term Master. Lance might cause him pain beyond the elemental limits, especially in some moment of rapture. But there was no need for anxiety beyond this - or so the bottom believed. Nor did Lance doubt the parameters of his role. The harsher lusts lay buried, well concealed and all but forgotten - except that for some reason, his sessions with Carlos brought his darker thoughts into focus

It was a secret fantasy that periodically haunted Lance Williamson. It was not exactly a recurring dream, because it was not repetitive. It was more like a miniseries, a dreadful, sweat-provoking, experience - each new installment an adventure built on the residue of the last. It came only seldom in Lance's slumbers, perhaps three or four times within a year; but memory of each session left him shaken and unable to return to sleep afraid what might happen if he did. It all seemed so real, it sometimes left him wondering if he might really have committed these acts, and that his subconscious mind was acting as a shield, covering it up and removing it from his waking memory, sparing him the horror until the truth broke through, unbidden in his subconscious. He had dreamt the last installment only a couple of nights before, and it was still fresh in his mind

It had started in the little house he used to lease in the San Fernando Valley, on a quiet side street in Van Nuys, According to his dream, he had brought young man home from off the streets of Hollywood, and had worked him over after binding h15 hands behind his back. But the kid had fought him, kicking at him and scratching Lance's chest with his toenails. An interesting interlude, a piece of something which had once really happened. But with the kid in the dream, Lance had subdued him with a heavy blow against the captive head.

The punk had then submitted, and Lance had used his body in more than just the usual games. The kid had challenged him in the beginning, then taunted him at every step, as if each successively heavy usage were no true test of the young man's endurance, and not worthy of a real Master's demonstrated talents. Finally, after being unable to evoke a properly pained response, Lance had thrown him down on his belly, tied him firmly in place and whipped his assuntil the lacerations were deep and the skin was cut in consectors patterns — a far heavier usage than Lance had ever made of any real life bottom. Then he'd fucked him, a punishment fuck, hard and painful—again, a degree of abuse that he had never matched in reality.

All this might not have formed the basis for such a frightening series of dreams, but now the kid began to deride his Master's prowess, casting cymical aspersions about the size and strength of the cock that plowed his ass - certainly not a realistic assessment, and one that should in itself have disproved the validity of the dream. But in this dreadful recall, Lance responded in anger — more than anger, in a blind fury. He seized the punk's head and shoved it hard against the mattress, but the sneering laughter never stopped. He pulled back then, forcing the surly lips away from the bed and twisting the head hard to one side until the telling "snap" sent a bolt of fear into his frenzied brain, and in that moment he realized his partner was dead

In a pame, he withdrew his cock and stared in disbelief at the silent form beneath him. He still felt angry, although fear and horror were rapidly replacing any other sensation. There was then a break. as if a transition in a dramatized film. He did not remember how he removed the body from the house, but he could recall driving with the bundled corpse beside him in the front seat of his four-wheeldrive. He went along the shore of a marshy pond — a place he could never recall ever visiting before or since. He bound the body inside a blanket, well wrapped in rope and weighted with heavy rocks taken from the periphery of the pond. Then he had shoved the body under the water and fled

Strangely enough, he could never remember actually dreaming the initial sequence. But in the subsequent segments, he looked back on the expenence as if it were a valid memory, and the succeeding events were dependent upon it. In one instance he was returning home, but saw the police ransacking his house and he knew the reason. He had been forced to flee and desperately contrived to survive as a fugitive until the near approach of his potential captors awakened him.

Another time, he had been compelled to return to the pond, to assure himself that the body had not been discovered. He had embarked in a glass-bottom boat, trying to locate the bound remains on the bottom of the lake, while pretending to the operator of the vessel that he was actually interested in the colorful fish that schooled beneath the surface. Finally, when he had been unable to find his quarry, the young, not unattractive boat operator, had come up behind and groped him from between his legs, telling him that they'd found a body right in this spot more than a year ago, and no one knew who the victim had been, and now no one really cared. He'd continued to inbutton Lance's jeans, and the touch of his warm hips had awakened the dreamer

There had been other moments of horror in this protracted series, and on awakening they had always seemed so real that each required a substantial session of thought and reassurance to convince Lance that he had indeed been dreaming. And in the end, two poignant truths penetrated his consciousness. First, he knew that he would never permit his own destruction at the price of another's survival. And secondly, he realized that the horror he felt in each of the episodes he experienced stemmed not so much from any qualms of conscience, but rather from his fears of retribution — be this from the law, or from the ghostly form of his victim seeking some eerie retribution

Lance shrugged away the unwanted fantasy and returned his attention to the reality of the bound, naked man who lay before him. Yet the final vestige of recall remained, and he sensed a renewed perception of power, harbored the brief and fleeting knowledge that with a single twist of his arms he could snap the vertebrae in Carlos's neck just as easily as he had done in his dream. He possessed the power. He did not possess the right, and the very realization that the dreadful dream had intruded — even ever so slightly — into this reality made him shudder.

, ance arrived home in early day light, having driven through nearly described streets and pulling into his driveway just as the sun burst in a blaze of golden orange over the horizon. In fact, the sudden explosion of light caught him when he passed the opening between houses, and left him blinking as he entered the relative darkness of his garage. He owned a small home in the hills above West Hollywood - in an area which had traditionally been close to city life when one wished to avail himself of its advantages, yet far enough removed to avoid the worst of the negatives. For this reason, Lance had not thought twice about leaving his garage door open when he'd left that evening. Now, as his dark green BMW glided to a halt, he noted the open door on the Range Rover - "The Jeep" as everyone called it

Lance had bought the four-wheeldrive from a client who had inherited it from his lover, and who had been anxious to get rid of a vehicle that held so many ambivalent memories for him. For Lance, it had been a perfect opportunity to acquire something more appropriate than his Beamer when he went on one or another of the cycle club runs. Now, however, he bolted out of his car to stare in silent fury at the Rover. Someone had smashed the window on the passenger side, opened the door, and stolen the new tape deck which Lance had bought only a couple of weeks before. Muttering to himself, he stepped outside and pulled down the overhead door. "Got to get an automatic opener," he told himself. "Been putting it off for months. Fuckin' bastard!"

Inside, he made a quick check of the premises to assure himself that the thief had not penetrated the house proper, then shucked his leathers as he poked the button on his answering machine. Rich's voice caused him to pause in his movements to listen

"Lance, I'm calling you at a little after two o'clock, 'cause I know I won't wake you up You told me you'd be out, but I'm hoping you'll get this first thing when you come back. I came straight home when I left you at the Sheriff's station, and I've been here ever since. Nicky's never come back, and he hasn't called. I'm france enough about that, but now I look through the window and there's some guy sitting out front in a car. I can't see him too well, but the car looks like a plainclothes cop car. Now I don't even know if it's safe to use the phone. Could they have bugged it? Please call me, baby — whenever you get back. I don't care how late. I won't be asicep anyway."

"Fuck! No rest for the weary." The big paralegal finished unzipping the slontight chaps, which had been tailored to be worn directly against his slon instead of over a pair of jeans. He dropped them on the floor beside his boots. Standing naked except for the leather vest, he finished running the messages from his machine—no voice, but at least a half-dozen hang-ups—then he punched Rich's code on the autodialer, leaving the receiver down as he lit a cigarette—feeling guilty as he did it. "Only the fourth today—no, new day. The first today."

Rich must have fallen asleep despite his doubts, and his own machine answered before he fumbled the phone off the hook. Lance heard his friend punch out the recorded voice as he settled into a leather easy chair beside his own instrument. He left it on "speaker" as Rich cleared his throat. "Lance, is that you?"

"It's me. What's happened?"

"Well, Nicky still hasn't come home, but the cop's gone. He drove off about a half hour after I called you."

"What makes you so sure he was a cop?"

"He was in a car with black-wall tires, and there was a little antenna sticking up in the middle of the trunk."

"Yeah, that sounds like a cop. If he shows up again try to get a license number, so I can check it out."

"I'm more worned about Nicky and the phone. Do you think it might be tapped?"

"Not unless you made them think you're in the rackets — or running dope," Lance replied lightly. His fingers traced the line on his thigh, where the chaps had left a narrow red trail. Must have put on a couple of pounds, he thought. Gotta watch the starches.

"Jesus, Lance, don't say something like that on the phone, even in play. What if they are tapping the line?"

"They're not," the paralegal assured him.

"But what if..."

"They're not," Lance repeated. "But I'm getting a little wormed about Nicky, too. Have any idea where he might'a gone?"

"Not a clue." Rich's voice over the speaker phone sounded discouraged — and tired, more used than his overt circumstances might have implied.

"Well, Rich, he's a big boy. He'll have to make his own decision on this. He's probably scared shitless — maybe even started to come home and spotted the cop...got scared and ran off. Give it a little more time. I'm sure you'll hear from him,"

The big Top stood up, shrugging off his vest to stand naked in front of the desk where the small red glow showed on the phone panel. It was the only light in the room, except for a subtle aura of sunlight seeping in around the blackout curtains as he said good-bye to his friend and clicked the speaker off

He absently stroked his dick, pulling the foreskin loose from the crown, feeling the renewal of lust in his balls. He'd cum before he left Carlos, of course, following his well-established pattern — the grand climax to which both of them habitually built. After working his captive's ass until it fairly glowed with radiated warmth, he'd held the supme figure down and slipped his well-lubricated dick inside careful, of course, that he had a nubber securely in place. Then he'd fucked, forcing himself to slow whenever the fires of passion threatened to erupt, holding back just long enough to permit the critical moment to pass, then slamming himself again atop the round, firm curves. It had been a contest of control, the bridling of passions that both desired, yet both strove to prolong.

"Crazy. The longer I stretch it out in a scene, the hornier I am after I get home." He lifted his cock in the palm of his hand, felt it respond and lift free of its own volution. "Um, time for a shower —a hot shower." He started toward the bath room when his phone rang. The digital clock beside it on the desk read 6:35. He started to reach for the receiver, then stopped. Let the fucking machine get it. If it's someone I want to...

"Lance, it's Nicky. If you're there, please pick up the phone. I'm at the bottom of the hill. Is it all right if I come up?"

"Are you the one who kept calling and hanging up when the machine answered?"

"Uh...yeah, I'm sorry, man, but I really wanted to talk to you, and I didn't want to leave a message." His voice was plaintive, his tone almost pleading.

Lance really wanted nothing more than a quick shower and a few hours' sleep. In all the time Nicky had lived with Richie, he had never spoken more than a few words to Lance, and their outward relationship had never been more than casual toleration. The kid seemed to sense the bigger man's unease when they were thrown together. Yet, there was no disputing that Nicky was a real beauty, and the idea of being in the house alone with him created an unwelcome stir in Lance's groin. "Okay," he sighed. "Come on up I'm going to take a shower, but I'll leave the side door unlocked." He had already hung up when he realized that Nicky had never been to the house, and had no idea what door he meant. Tough shit! If he wants it badly enough, he'll find it, and he padded off to the bathroom.

Standing under the hot water, watching it cascade across his smoothly muscled body, Lance felt a concomitant heat rising inside himself. His cock was already swelling into a heavy arch, so that a thick stream of water coursed its length and plunged off the hooded crown as if his bladder had suddenly voided itself of an impossible fullness. He stroked himself, bringing an instant erection and increased desire to unleash the remaining lusts of his body.

He smiled to himself, toying with the idea of allowing Nicky to find him naked, in the shower with a full, raging boner. That would be pretty tacky, and it wouldn't make Rich very happy, he thought, and I'd probably feel guilty as shit afterward. But the kid was a hunk and a half — and no longer underage. "That'd be a lousy trick," he told himself again, and finished his shower without doing anything else to arouse his passions. But this also left his lusts unrequited

He dried himself with an oversized bath towel and shipped into a pair of gray workout pants — and nothing else. He gave his thick brown hair a quick comb, then went into the den to make himself a drink. He glanced at the clock over the bar. It had been twenty minutes since Nicky's call. He dropped a couple of ice cubes into his glass, wondering why it was taking the kild so long to arrive. Then it dawned on him that Nicky was probably on foot. He certainly had no car of his own, and maybe not the fare for a cab. He was most likely walking up the hill "Christ, it'll take him an hour!" But just as Lance muttered the unhappy thought, he heard the door open in the next room, and a moment later Nicky Trent was standing in front of him.

"I didn't think about your having to walk," Lance began. "Sorry you had that long haul up the hill."

"Oh, I got a ride about half way up Guy wanted my body, but he backed off when I told him I was coming to see my Master." Nicky grinned — a thoroughly disarming expression that forced a chuckle from Lance, despite his fatigue and uneasiness over the kid's untimely visit.

"So, why didn't you go home?"

"I did. At least I tried to, but that fuckin' cop was sitting out front in an unmarked car and I was afraid he'd bust me again."

"He won't." Lance assured him. "The worst he'll do is try to scare you into making some statement detrimental to Rich, about you having sex with him before you were of age. But there's nothing he can do to you, now that you're over eighteen. You can tell him to go fuck himself."

"That's exactly what I did tell him." There was a decided note of pride in the young man's tone. "At the Sheriff's station," he added, "when the asshole was trying to make me admit like you said that I'd been having sex with Richie."

"That's not exactly what I meant," Lance replied. "When you tell a cop to go get fucked, you shouldn't say it in just those words. It makes them want to get even with you. That may be why the shithead's sitting out in front of your house "

"It's not my house," Nicky replied

unexpectedly

"Well, it's certainly been your home for almost two years." Lance regarded his visitor quizzically, surprised by the kid's remark.

Nicky eyed the glass in Lance's hand, saying nothing, but moving toward one of the big upholstered chairs. Lance motioned him to sit down and asked if he'd like a drink

"Just a Coke or something. I'm sorry, Lance, I know you and Richie have been friends for a long time, and I know you don't approve of me..."

"It's not that I don't approve of you," replied the paralegal. "I was just afraid that Rich would get into exactly the land of trouble that happened yesterday except I was afraid it might happen sooner, when he'd really have been in hot water "

"Yeah ..well see, I didn't mean to cause the situation, but Richie and me, we had something going that gave us both something we wanted...needed, really. I was a queer teenager with no place to live, and Richie was a guy with a good job who liked chicken. I was happy with the arrangement, and I know he was, too." The kid's voice trailed off, as he watched Lance with a pleading expression.

"You're telling me you want to break

it off?"

Nicky nodded, and Lance noted a glint of moisture in the wide, gray-blue eyes. "Let me try to explain," he said earnestly, leaning forward in his seat, his gesturing fingers almost touching Lance's knee. "See, I guess I got a Daddy thing Anyway, I like older guys. And I like Richie a lot. He's been real good to me, and we've had good sex 'an everything, except...well, it's not very exciting anymore -at least not for me, and so I'm not really giving Richie what he wants. He says it doesn't matter, that we're going through a "phase in our relationship" and that things will get better. Only I know they won't, because I don't feel that way about him anymore."

"You're saying that you've gotten everything you can from him, and..."

"No! That isn't what I mean!" There were now two rivulets of tears streaming down the youngster's cheeks. "I mean that I feel about Richie like I would someone in my family. I feel strongly about him, but I really don't want to have sex with him anymore. And...and maybe this wouldn't all have come up right now, and be such a problem like it is, except for all this horseshit with the cops, and that big cigar-chewing bastard who's waiting for me outside the house "

He was really sobbing, then, and Lance regretted the harshness of his attitude But there was more than the obvious reason for that. He was attracted to the kid, had been since first meeting him, and in a way had envied Rich's courage in pursuing the relationship. He had also detected a reciprocal interest on the kid's part. But Lance was hesitant to take advantage of the situation. Rich was his friend, and he didn't want to betray him. Yet the atmosphere of the room was decidedly sexual. He knew that the kid would be in his arms if he gave the slightest encouragement, and much as he might have enjoyed the contact, he couldn't bring himself to initiate it.

"I want the kind of sex you're involved with," Nicky added unexpectedly. "The idea of being ned up and naked and having to do what the other guy wants me to do. That really turns me on!" He fixed Lance again with a penetrating gaze of those innocent light-bued eyes, and it was all the bigger man could do not to the make a physical response — other than the involuntary one he could feel inside the gray jersey joggers.

"So, what are you telling me?"

The youngster continued to stare at him for several more seconds. "I don't want to hurt Richie, either," he replied evasively. "But I'm bored with him --sexually, I mean. We haven't had really good sex for over six months — just him sucking me off once in a while. That's wity I thought...maybe...since I can't go home, anyway..."

"Nicky, Rich and I have been friends for almost 12 years — close friends, No matter how much I might want you, I can't play that kind of game on him especially not right now, when he's already so upset."

The kid sighed and leaned back in his chair, allowing his Levi's-clad legs to spread, revealing a quite respectable mound about the crotch. "Then I guess you'd better call Richie and tell him I came up here, because I saw the cop and was afraid to go home." He continued to stare at Lance with an unblinking gaze. "But once I work it out with Richie, I want to come back." It wasn't a question, or even a plea. Nor was it a statement in any way submissive, certainly not the way a prospective bottom should be talking to the man he wished to have as his Master.

"Yeah, sometime," Lance muttered, and he picked up the phone, intending to punch in Rich's code. But something stayed his hand. He looked again at the kid, and the unspoken message that passed between them caused him to replace the receiver. Then Nicky was on his knees in front of the bigger man. With barely a momentary hesitation his fingers fumbled for the drawstring on Lance's sweatpants. As the gray material fell away from the slender hips and onto the floor, the kid's lips closed about the half-men shaft while he shrugged out of his shirt, began to work the belt loose from his own narrow waist

Lance closed his eyes, allowing the incredible sensation to possess him, foreing his mind to ignore the implications of guilt and conscience. A prick has no conscience, he told himself, muttering the thought loud enough that the kid must have heard it, because he made a snorting sound deep in his throat as he abruptly forced himself fully onto Lance's now fully expanded cock, almost choking as he took it totally into himself .
